Public Hearing Of 'Five Percenters' Is Being Planned

Major Changes In Government Contract Procedures Already Being Drafted

SENATE PROBES SECURE EVIDENCE

By CHARLES B. SEIB (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 19.

The Senate probe of Washington's "five percenters" has progressed to the point where major changes in government contract procedures are being drafted.

This was learned today as a reliable source said that investigators have uncovered material which proves the whole relationship between businessmen and government needs a shakeup.

The Senate investigating committee is pushing preparations for what promises to be a sensational public hearing on "five percenters"—men who sell influence with federal officials to "out-of-towners" in search of government business.

Plenty Of Evidence

It was learned meanwhile that a subcommittee has plenty of documentary evidence for the hearings, including one letter in which a major general revealed unpub-

Traffic counts are going on in three places in the county, it has been reported by the State Department of Highways. The count is being taken on the New Castle-Edwinstown road, Route 88; Parkersburg road, Route 224 and Jefferson street, Route 18. According to the local department, the check is a periodic one made out of Harrisburg and is for future reference of the department in highway modernization programs.

The state highway department plans to take advantage of the lessened traffic on Route 422 east of the city, due to the detour in effect on the road and complete a job that was begun last year. The maintenance crews will fill in the places on the road which were not taken care of when patch work was done last year. In other words, when the work is complete, the entire road from the city line to Rose Point will have had a new surface.

Double parking should be checked on East Washington street, especially between Croton avenue and Butler avenue while the detour is in effect on Route 422 and 19. One man double parked at Court and East Washington street on Monday had traffic tied up back as far as East street. West bound traffic prevented those going east from getting around the offender.

City motorists are hoping that numerous local residents will go on a tree trimming expedition very shortly. Some of the trees have grown so extensively during the summer that large branches hang over the street curbs scratching the tops of the cars. The limbs are also a menace to traffic.

Little regard is paid to the no loafing signs on the East Washington street bridge during the hot evenings. As high as 12 and 15 young men are found on the bridge almost nightly in their effort to get some cool breezes. Hitch hiking, which is prohibited at the spot is done quite frequently there too.

Field corn seems to be coming along at a rapid pace these days on Lawrence county farms. Numerous fields in the southern part of the county are seven or eight feet in height, well out in tassels and already have good sized ears of corn formed on the stalks.

Two-Year-Old Feeds Deer On Mercer County Farm

Two-year-old Denny Black shows no more fear of the wild deer pictured above, than the deer of him. The deer shows little fear of humans since she started coming to the farm of Scott Frankenburg of Millburn Pump Station on the Perry Highway, two years ago. The deer, a doe, first came to the farm with the cows and the Frankenburgs first tried to tame it when as a young fawn they found that it was nursing on the cows. Since then it has learned to feed from their hand. The doe now has twin fawns, but has not brought them near enough to be fed. Denny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Black, 102 W. Garfield avenue. Connecticut Senator May Be G.O.P. Chairman

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Former Senator John Anthony Danaher of Connecticut is understood today to have the next 48 hours to decide whether he wishes to become the new Republican national chairman.

The GOP chairmanship becomes vacant Aug. 4 when Hugh D. Scott, Jr., of Pennsylvania steps out following his resignation Monday night. Scott resigned after offering to quit if Republican chieftains could agree on a man to bring "harmony and cohesion to the party organization."

At the moment, Danaher appears to be that man. The former Connecticut senator is the first choice of top national leaders in the Republican party. This includes Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan, GOP House Leader Joseph W. Martin and Harold Stassen, the transplanted Minnesotan who now is president of the University of Pennsylvania.

Subway Slowdown Threat In New York Bus Traffic Tieup

Bus Company Officials To File Damage Suits Against T.W.U. For Strike

NEW YORK, July 19.—(INS)—New York Transit Union leader Michael J. Quill hinted at a possible subway "slowdown" today in support of his CIO Transport Workers Union strike against two major bus companies.

Police were stationed at strategic rush hour congestion points to handle possible jams arising from such a tactic.

Quill did not explicitly threaten a slowdown, which would violate the Condon-Wadlin act outlawing strikes or slowdowns by state or municipal employees. But he said: "If the men should go over our heads and use the book of rules, there would be a slowdown."

Officials of the jointly-operated Fifth Ave. Coach Co., and the N. Y. City Omnibus Corp., went ahead with plans to file damage suits of $1,000,000 against the TWU. All efforts by city mediators to end the expensive bus strike admittedly were in a "hopeless" deadlock. Some 1,200,000 daily bus passengers continued seeking hard-to-get transportation on the walkout's sixth day.

Carnival Men Are Fined $1,700

GETTYSBURG, July 19.—(INS)—Eleven itinerant carnival men yesterday were fined a total of $1,700 in Adams county court on charges of operating gambling devices at a show in Gettysburg.

The court ordered confiscation of gambling devices and $255 taken from the operators during a surprise raid by State police July 8.

Chinese Reds Make Claims Of New Gains

TOKYO, July 19.—(INS)—Chinese Communists claimed today the destruction of four Nationalist divisions in a major drive into Central China and termed the proposed Far Eastern Union the work of "American imperialists."

The Communist Peiping radio said: "Even if this puppet alliance does come into the world under American support, we, the people of China and the Far Eastern countries, will certainly crush it swiftly."

(Reuters reported from Hong Kong that the Nationalists have evacuated Kanchow, 200 miles northeast of the provisional capital of Canton. The British agency said that the Communists have occupied Swabue, 85 miles east of Hong Kong.)

Two Nationalist regiments were reported by Reuters to have joined the Communists in eastern Kwangtung province, where Canton and Hong Kong are located. The union, as now proposed, consists of Nationalist China, South Korea, and the Philippines. The broadcast denounced the heads of the three countries—Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek, President Syngman Rhee, and President Elpidio Quirino—as "agents of American imperialism."

Says Rearming Program Covers More Than Europe

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—A highly-placed Democrat indicated today that the administration's arms-for-Europe program might more aptly be termed a Eurasian rearmament program.

He said it will call for arms for the Philippines as well as for Greece, Turkey and the 10 European signatories to the North Atlantic Pact.

The nearly one and one-half billion dollar arms program was heralded originally as providing military aid to only the North Atlantic Pact countries. Later, it was learned that Greece and Turkey would be included.

However, it was not previously disclosed that the program anticipated arms for the Philippines. Senate GOP Floor Leader Wherry, Neb., predicted that Congress will not complete action on the arms issue before quitting for the summer, despite contrary hopes of administration leaders.

Wherry said he was counting on Aug. 15 as an adjournment date. The arms program is to be sent to Capitol Hill soon after final Senate action late Thursday on the North Atlantic Pact.

Police Seek Youth Who Shot Playmate

Ten-Year-Old Johnston Boy Critically Wounds Friend, Then Disappears

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., July 19.—(INS)—Johnstown police today still were looking for 10-year-old Donnie Patterson, who disappeared yesterday after critically wounding a playmate, David Keifer, 6, also of Johnstown.

The Keifer boy is reported in a grave condition in the Memorial hospital in Johnstown from a bullet wound of the left chest. Attendents said the bullet just missed his heart.

Police said the boys, who live in the same apartment building, were playing in a bedroom of the Patterson apartment, when Donnie pulled a German automatic pistol belonging to his father out of a drawer to show to his companion.

Neighbors reported hearing a shot. Then David ran up the stairs screaming to his mother that he had been shot. Donnie followed, saying it was an accident. "I shot him and I'm awfully sorry," Donnie told Mrs. Keifer. In the excitement, Donnie returned to his own apartment. He left shortly afterwards and hasn't been seen since.

U. S. Minister And Chiang Kai-Shek Have Conference

Half Hour Conference Is Held In Canton—No Information Given Out

SOUTH CHINA RED OFFENSIVE RENEWED

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN (Far Eastern Director, International News Service)

CANTON, July 19.—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek conferred with U. S. Minister Lewis Clark today, amid increasingly gloomy reports of renewed Communist offensives in South China.

Chiang's half-hour meeting with Lewis Clark marked the first time the Generalissimo conferred with anyone but Nationalist leaders since his return to Canton to re-assume direction of the war. Neither would comment on the meeting.

(The Chinese Communist radio claimed that a strong new Red offensive had taken Paoli, the "gateway" to huge Szechuan province in Central China, and that four Nationalist divisions were "destroyed.")

(The same Peiping broadcast denounced the proposed Nationalist China-Korea-Philippine anti-Communist Pact as the work of "American imperialists.")

Report Communists Battle
News that the Communists are battling 300 miles north of Canton prompted the Nationalist high command, meanwhile, to step up its time-table for a vigorous stand against the Reds.

The single bright spot in the military picture was the semi-official report that government troops re-took the highway city of Kian, 300 miles north of Canton.

Other military reports, however, indicated that the Communist drive to the south was mounting in intensity.

The Communist forces' major effort appeared directed at Hengyang, 350 miles west of Canton, in Kwangsi Province, where Nationalist General Pai Chung-Hsi has 200,000 troops, considered the best in South China.

Foreign military observers in Canton believe the Communists' immediate aim is to smash the core of Pai's army.

Report Chief Of Guatemalan Army Was Assassinated

SAN SALVADOR, July 19.—(INS)—Reports reaching San Salvador today that Col. Francisco Xavier Arana, Guatemalan army chief, was assassinated yesterday at the national palace in Guatemala City.

The report was not officially confirmed, nor was there any confirmation of rumors that disorders were touched off in the city.

A similar report on Arana's assassination was heard in Buenos Aires. These accounts said that the government palace was closed, surrounded by troops armed with machine guns, and that a national emergency was declared.

Mexico City reported that telephone communications with Guatemala City were suspended.

President Truman To Make Address During Afternoon In Chicago

CHICAGO, July 19.—(INS)—

President Truman, the nation's No. 1 noble, flies to Chicago today aboard his "Magic Carpet" to join 75,000 fezz-wearing fellow Shriners at their colorful diamond jubilee convention.

Mr. Truman will address an estimated 100,000 Shriners and guests at an afternoon rally at Soldier Field. During the evening he will be guest of honor at a banquet in the Stevens hotel.

The president's arrival at the convention of the ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine is expected to touch off a wild demonstration of good-natured horseplay.

Fair and Cooler Weather

Weather forecasters have promised fair and cooler weather for Mr. Truman's arrival and the Shriners' raring, blaring five-hour parade down Michigan avenue.

From the moment the presidential plane, The Independence, lands at municipal airport, the chief executive and his official party will be the center of attention of shouting, laughing Shriners, their families and the city's music-deafened residents.

His appearance will mark the first time a president has attended a North American Shriners' convention.

The president, a bona-fide Shriner, is a member of Kansas City's Ararat Temple.

To Arrive at 2 p. m. (CDT)

Mystery Meeting At Blair House Purpose Revealed

Concerned Atomic Relations Between United States And Great Britain

By FRANK E. ALLEN (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Sen. McMahon (D) Conn., of the congressional atomic energy committee, officially confirmed today that the mysterious Blair House conference was concerned with atomic relations between the United States and Great Britain.

McMahon announced that his group will meet with diplomatic and defense officials tomorrow in a follow-up to the meeting with President Truman last Thursday night.

Represented at the closed-door conference on Capitol Hill tomorrow afternoon, McMahon announced, will be State Department, military establishment and atomic energy commission spokesmen.

Saying that the meeting will follow that at Blair House, McMahon declared that the subject will be "the continuing problem of our relations with the United Kingdom and Canada in the field of atomic energy."

Deal with Supplies

He indicated that the conference will deal with raw materials supplies as well as with exchange of information by saying:

"At the present time the three countries are co-operating in a limited number of specifically defined areas of information as well as on matters of raw materials supply."

Announcing tomorrow's meeting, McMahon said:

"Following the meeting at Blair House, at which congressional leaders were present, the joint committee on atomic energy plans to meet in closed session Wednesday at 2:30 p. m., EDT, to explore with the Department of (Continued on Page Two)

Britain Seeking Further Atomic Facts From U. S.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—

A noted British scientist made an unpublished trip to Washington shortly before the secret Blair House meeting reportedly to voice displeasure on the amount of atomic information Britain is receiving.

It was learned today that the visit was made by Prof. J. D. Cockcroft, who headed the Harwell laboratory which built Britain's first atomic pile.

Reports of Cockcroft's mission coincided with Capitol Hill testimony by David E. Lilienthal, atomic energy commission chairman, that relations with British and Canadian scientists constituted one of AEC's important problems.

Observers are agreed that the conference at Blair House—temporary residence of President Truman—dealt with atomic relations with Britain. One member of Congress said privately that this report had been confirmed to him by a participant in the meeting.

It also is believed that another probable subject discussed was the Belgian Congo source of uranium.

Supreme Court Member Dies In Detroit Hospital

Death Comes Unexpectedly This Morning Although He Had Been Ill

NAMED TO COURT IN 1940 BY ROOSEVELT (BULLETIN)

DETROIT, July 19.—(INS)—Fifty-nine-year-old Associate Justice Frank Murphy of the United States Supreme Court died of a heart attack in Detroit today.

The distinguished statesman and close friend of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt died unexpectedly at 7:45 a. m. (EST) in the Henry Ford Hospital.

Although Justice Murphy had been in the hospital since June 15, death came suddenly and the only member of the family with him when he died was his brother, Recorder's Court Judge George Murphy of Detroit.

He entered the hospital suffering coronary thrombosis.

Died In His Sleep

Physicians said the justice died in his sleep. Justice Murphy had been in and out of the hospital for tests for more than a month, but never was placed on the critical list. He left the hospital for a motor ride yesterday afternoon and returned apparently in the best of spirits. Justice Murphy had made reservations to take mineral baths in Mt. Clemens next week and then planned to spend most of the remainder of the summer with his sister, Mrs. Marguerite Tchan, and other relatives in Harbor Beach.

The justice had planned this fall to visit friends in Miami.

Born In 1890

No immediate statement regarding funeral plans was issued by the family. It was considered possible that a state funeral would be held in Washington.

In spite of simple tastes, Justice Murphy was popular in the lavish Washington society.

He read the Bible daily, attended mass regularly, kept fit with boxing, swimming, riding and dancing.

The bachelor jurist never smoked nor drank and rarely attended parties.

Justice Murphy's private motto was: "Speak softly and hit hard."

Justice Murphy had a distinguished record of more than 30 years in public service.

Murphy was appointed to the (Continued on Page Two)

State Police Enforcing Traffic Laws Impartially As Tourist Season Nears Peak

OTHER NEWS OF
STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, July 19.—(INS)—Pennsylvania state police are enforcing traffic laws impartially as the state's $600,000,000 a year tourist moves toward a peak. . . . Courtney has been the guiding principle for troopers on traffic details but reports for the first half of the year indicate no laxity in enforcing regulations. . . . Figures for the six month report has not been correlated but based on statistics for the first quarter the picture is expected to indicate unrelenting prosecution of violators. . . . In the first quarter, state police arrested 26,043 violators of the state's motor code which was an increase of 35,461 over the comparable period in 1948. . . . One third of the arrests were made either for speed law violators or for ignoring stop signs, according to the state police report. . . . The first half total will show a sharp increase due to the huge rise in out-of-state automobile traffic streaming into Pennsylvania or heading across the state. . . . J. Herbert Walker, director of the State Commerce department's Tourist bureau, points out that Pennsylvania's tourist industry will spend $10,000,000 this year for improvements to physical plants at vacation spots and guest accommodations.

The State Department of Military affairs has been moved almost completely to the Indian town Gap Military Reservation which is about 17 miles from the state capital. . . . Only a skeleton force needed to handle the files and records is on duty in the state capital of-rice. . . . Maj. Gen. F. A. Weber, state adjutant general, is at Indian town the year around but maintains an office at the state capital for official affairs. . . . Weber lives on the reservation in a state-owned house. . . . Indian town personnel draw money when using their private cars for official business between the "Little Pentagon" headquarters and the state capital.

U. S. Sen. Edward Martin (R) Pa., will support a Senate vote for the North Atlantic Treaty, the defensive alliance of 12 countries, but undoubtedly will refuse to support the Truman administration's plan to use the nation's funds to re-arm the signatory powers. . . . Martin is of the opinion that it is better to take a calculated risk than to spend billions of dollars at a time when he believes the nation can ill-afford it. . . . Martin said that the "onroe Doctrine has been effective in forestalling European aggression in North or South America for 126 years without war.

The speed with which the general State Authority Bonds are bought by private investors probably, will determine the rate of issue. . . . The initial offering of $30,000,000 "Faith and Confidence" Bonds of the GSA is now being made available to investors by Halsey-Stewart & Co., of New York. . . . Governor Duff, who has projected the agency's $175,000,000 program, is expected to have all bonds sold before he leaves office.

The Pennsylvania turnpike is being "sold" to travelers on Atlantic City's famed steel pier. . . . A gigantic relief map shows the original Middlesex-Irwin section opened in 1940 plus the eastern and western extensions. . . . Messages from Governor Duff and Turnpike Commission Chairman T. J. Evans flank the map. . . . Both call it the "world's greatest highway," a phrase which probably will spark some defense of "back home" modern roads by residents of other states. . . . But the fact is that when the road is completed from border to border it will be the only super-highway extending approximately 320 miles in the world. . . . The final cost will exceed $200,000,000.

The cost of the six propellers on the largest United States bombers in production today is $168,000. They are 19 feet in diameter.

Increase In Wages

U. S. Chamber Of Commerce Joins In Fight Against Further Wage Boosts

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—Opposition to a fourth round of wage increases mounted today while the government predicted new price cuts and production slumps during the next 10 weeks. The United States Chamber of Commerce is the latest group to join the fight against further wage boosts. Chamber President Herman W. Steinkraus told Congress that the hikes might shut down more plants and bring about greater unemployment.

Steinkraus criticized CIO proposals and backed the steel industry's position in demanding that wages be held steady.

The government's forecast of a further dip in prices and production underlies the opposition to wage increases.

The interior department, releasing the latest forecast, also: 1. Said that there are signs of a further drop in national income. 2. Predicted that employment in non-agricultural industries will continue below the year-ago level "and perhaps become more serious."

The agency added that "the pulse of the American economy is still strong and the country's capacity to recover from slumps cannot be discounted."

PUBLIC HEARING OF
'FIVE PERCENTERS'
IS BEING PLANNED

alized army procurement needs to an alleged "five-percenter."

Over the weekend, Major General Alden H. Waitt and Herman Feldman, the former chief of the Chemical Corps and the latter Quartermaster General, were suspended pending the Senate investigation.

The subcommittee may recommend some changes, still being kept secret, even before its hearings begin. If it doesn't, it will certainly propose a full program to Congress and the White House when the hearings close.

Eliminate "Five Percenters"

The recommendations will be designed to eliminate the need for "five percenters" from Washington.

If the subcommittee, which is headed by Sen. Hoyer (D) N. C., has its way, they will be replaced by facilities through which the businessman interested in a government contract can get it in an honest, above-board way—with no five per cent commission to an influential "go-between."

It was understood, however, that there would not be a blanket condemnation of all Washington contact men, but only of those who have gotten "out-of-bounds."

The first repercussion of the investigation was Army Secretary Gordon Gray's announcement of the suspension of Waitt and Feldman.

Gray said that evidence indicates Feldman supplied procurement information to a contractor's representative under circumstances which appear "irregular," and that Waitt was accused of "improperly giving out personnel data."

Fugitive From
Rockview Taken

BELLEFONTE, Pa., July 19.—(INS)—William Mosley, of Philadelphia, today was in Centre County jail after a brief flight from the Rockview Penitentiary at Bellefonte.

Mosley, who was in his second week of a 2½ to five year sentence for burglary, was caught three hours after his escape from a prison horse barn yesterday afternoon.

The 21-year-old Mosley told state police he "heard that my family was burned in a fire" and was on his way to find out.

Speculation On
Supreme Court
Appointment

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—The unexpected death of Supreme Court Justice Frank Murphy today gave rise to speculation in connection with appointment of a successor to the Michigan Democrat.

Informed opinion in Washington suggested four leading possibilities. They are:

Attorney General Tom C. Clark of Texas; the veteran jurist Learned Hand, of New York, chief judge of the second circuit, U. S. Court of Appeals; former Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson of New York, and Sen. Joseph W. O'Mahoney (D) of Wyoming.

It was pointed out that since the supreme court is in recess until October, President Truman is under no great pressure to fill the vacancy without thoroughly canvassing the field.

Geographical and other considerations are certain to influence Mr. Truman's selection.

GOLD PRODUCERS
MANILA — The Philippine Islands stand ninth among the gold producing countries of the world. Under the U. S. flag, only California produces more.

The base of many fine and costly perfumes is ambergris, which is a wax-like, odorless substance, excreted sometimes from the stomach of sperm whales, or expelled by them and discovered floating on the sea or washed up on the shore. The presence of ambergris in perfumes makes the scent more lasting.

Pennsylvania R.R.
Recalls 2,000 Men

ALTOONA, Pa., July 19.—(INS)—About 4,000 furloughed workers waited and hoped today for a possible recall after the Pennsylvania Railroad called back 2,000 employees of the Altoona works yesterday.

The 2,000 men were part of a group of 6,000 who were furloughed during the railroad's curtailment program which began June 13. About 8,000 men are now working in four main departments of the Altoona works.

CARE OF PROPERTY OWNERS
It seems like time thrown away to try to keep looking after, or take good care of your property, as you receive no help from those in authority. We have understood that there were ordinances against a lot of things that are done in the City, which is injurious to other people's property, who are proud of taking care of same.
These things could be stopped if the right parties would do so, but it seems that they have too many other things to do. Why spend money to beautify our City, then pay no attention to taking care of it afterwards.

BRIDAL PAIR HOME

FROM HONEYMOON

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Mundziak are making their home at 10 Magee street, following a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., and Atlantic City, N. J. They were united in marriage at a ceremony performed July 3, at the Madonna church with the Rev. Fr. Edward Pikulik, officiating at a solemn high mass and using the double ring service.

Mrs. Mundziak, the former Miss Edith Gostyla, is the daughter of Mrs. Vera Gostyla of 10 Magee street. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Mundziak of 1237 Finch street.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Harry Gostyla, wore a becoming gown of white satin fashioned with an off the shoulder effect, sheer yoke outlined with a lace ruffle and white satin mitts. The flowing skirt ended in a long train. Her fingertip veil was attached to a lace halo, embroidered with head-dresses. She carried white crystal rosary beads, and wore a strand of pearls, both gifts of the groom. The prayer book, which she carried, was covered with two white orchids and shrouded with streamers of staphanotis.

Maid of honor, Miss Helen Mundziak, sister of the groom, was attired in yellow organdy eyelid over tulle and wore a halo of staphanotis.

Her flowers were a colonial bouquet of talisman roses. California asters and white carnations.

Bridesmaids the Misses Stella Bisztyga, Jane Potoczny, Dorothy Mundziak and Clara Dombroski were gowned in aqua organdy eyelid over tulle, patterned similarly to the bride's gown. They wore bouquets of yellow pompons and carried colonial bouquets of yellow roses, yellow California asters and white carnations.

Harry Gostyla, brother of the bride, was best man for the groom and the ushers were Stanley and Joe Kalfon of Flint, Mich., cousins of the bride, Edward Bisztyga, and Frank Mundziak.

Sister Dombroski at the organ played a recital of solemn nuptial music and sang "Ave Maria".

A wedding dinner was held at the Madonna church hall and 400 guests were present at the evening reception which was held at the Kizmir Polski hall, Oakland.

Mrs. Mundziak is a graduate of Union high school and is employed in the Gold room of the Shenango Pottery. Mr. Mundziak attended New Castle high school and served two years in the U. S. Army in the Pacific theater. He is employed at the Shenango Pottery company.

UNITED NATIONS

THEME OF MEETING

Members of the W. S. C. S. of the Wesley Methodist church met Thursday at the church.

Mrs. George Edwards was in charge of the devotional period and Mrs. C. H. Teece accompanied the group at the piano as they joined in a period of hymn singing.

The theme of the program was the United Nations and Mrs. Thomas Alexander and Mrs. John Heber spoke interestingly on various topics.

Mrs. Q. E. Davey, treasurer of the Grove City District of the W. S. C. S. has in the organization of the Board of Missions and in the local church work.

Vice president, Mrs. Henry Grittle closed the devotionals period with prayer and presided over the business meeting.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Dan Radabaugh, Mrs. Lavada Frye and Mrs. Morris Cox.

Birthday Party

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Sandman, 528 Bell avenue, was the scene of a very enjoyable event Sunday when the latter planned a birthday dinner party in honor of Mrs. Viola Bailey, who upon arriving at the Sandman home for a visit was completely surprised to find a number of guests awaiting her arrival.

The house was attractively decorated for the occasion and a delicious full course dinner was served at a nicely arranged table centered with a huge birthday cake. The group serenaded the honoree with the customary birthday song. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Louis Lachey, Miss Mary Rae Bailey and Miss Jayne Bailey.

Singing and reminiscing provided the pastime. Climaxing festivities, the guest of honor opened a collection of packages placed before her, revealing many lovely gifts.

KIENAST-SNIEZEK

EXCHANGE VOWS

An altar embanked with ferns, summer flowers, and tapering candles, provided a lovely setting for a wedding on Saturday, July 9, at 2:30 p.m. at St. Mary's church.

Miss Helen Kienast, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kienast of 405 Burke street, became the bride of Stanley Sniezek, son of Andrew Sniezek of Ashland avenue. Rev. Fr. Francis M. McCarter officiated at the afternoon ceremony.

Due to the illness of her father, the bride was given in marriage by her uncle, James Knittel of Detroit, Mich. She was attractively attired in a gown of white crepe, with fitted long sleeves, sweet heart neckline, and a fingertip veil of illusion. Her bridal bouquet was of American Beauty roses.

Miss Ruth Kienast, as her sister's maid of honor, was charming in a pink crepe gown. It was teamed with a bateau neckline, and short sleeves. The very full skirt accentuated the simplicity of the dress. She carried an arm bouquet of peach and pink roses.

Appropriate nuptial music was played throughout the ceremony.

Following the vows, a dinner was served to the bridal party at the Slovak Hall on Moravia street, the evening at 8 o'clock. A reception was held for 250 guests at the Slovak hall. Later in the evening the couple departed on a wedding trip to Buffalo, Canada, Boston and other points of interest. Upon their return they will reside at their new home on Ashland avenue.

The bride, a graduate of the local high school, is employed as an operator at the Bell Telephone. The groom, also a graduate of the New Castle high school, is employed by the Bell Construction Co.

MOOSE WOMEN PLAN

CHAPTER NIGHT

Twenty members of the Women of the Moose gathered Monday morning for breakfast at the home of Mrs. Edna Cox, 1025 Butler avenue.

The pleasing meal was served outdoors under the grape arbor on the lovely lawn of the Cox home. A period of social chat followed the breakfast.

Officers Chapter Night will be held tomorrow night for the Women of the Moose and will be in charge of Mrs. Mae O'Neill and her committee. Initiation of new candidates will be under the supervision of Senior Regent, Mrs. Charles Jameson and her staff of officers.

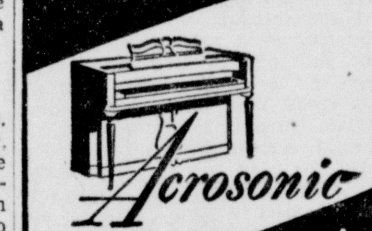

Wham-Jads Meet

Members of the Wham-Jads held their meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Lawson, 703 Harbor street, on Friday evening, July 15.

The evening was spent informally with prizes awarded to Mrs. James Shaffer, Mrs. Floyd Book and the galloper going to Mrs. Norman Gavroy. A special guest was Mrs. Robert Krause.

A tasty lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Robert McCormick. Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. James Shaffer of 725 Oak street on August 17.

BRIDAL SHOWER FOR

MARY MATRICARDI

Mrs. Guy Mori of Greensburg, Pa., was hostess at a lovely personal shower given at her home on Saturday evening in honor of Miss Mary Matricardi of this city, bride-elect of October.

Guests were entertained informally in the recreation room of the Mori home, which was decorated for the occasion in the bridal motif.

Games were played with prizes being awarded to Mrs. Jose Alvarez, Mrs. Bruno Drucci and Mrs. Joseph Stillitano, after which a dainty lunch was served at a table centered with a beautiful floral arrangement and a miniature bride and groom. The honored guest was showered with many lovely gifts.

Miss Matricardi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Matricardi, 610 Allen street, will become the bride of George W. Eden, of 418 East Garfield avenue, this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Eden of Martins Ferry, O., at 7:30 p. m. on October 22, at an open church ceremony to be performed at the Epworth Methodist church.

PLAN FAMILY NIGHT

AT COUNTRY CLUB

The first in a series of social events planned for the members of the New Castle Country club by its social committee, was held Saturday evening at the club house.

Approximately two hundred people were participants in the delightful evening's entertainment, and a tasty buffet lunch climaxed the festivities.

Wednesday night will be family night at the club. A family dinner is planned following which a diverting game will feature the evening's recreational period.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

Perhaps the first clear picture of Yugoslavia's break with the Cominform and of Marshal Tito's efforts to win the friendship of the western world has emerged.

And it was not drawn at a diplomatic conference or in a major political speech broadcast throughout all nations.

Quite on the contrary, it came from a pleasant summer evening buffet supper at an ornate old mansion on New York's Fifth avenue one night last week when the Yugoslavian delegate to the United Nations played host to friends and to American correspondents who have been covering developments at Lake Success.

It was the first social approach made by the Yugoslavian government in New York to the "imperialists and warmongers" who are reviled almost daily by the Cominform.

Definitely Significant

And it definitely was significant, because delegate Yoza Vilfan, in the course of informal conversations with his guests, set his government's position entirely clear.

There are two main points to Tito's thesis on this historic struggle between his own regime and that of the Kremlin.

1. Yugoslavia is going to stick to its own form of nationalistic communism, which its spokesmen prefer to identify as socialism.

2. The Cominform is an alien body, an interloper in the scheme of things, out to make trouble and nothing else.

View of the fact that only a few months ago Yugoslavian representatives in Washington and at Lake Success were as chary in their dealings with Americans as Andrei Gromyko himself, the Fifth avenue affair was something of an historic occasion.

There was a picture of Tito over the mantelpiece. But the furnishings were classic Louis XV. There was plenty of food, delightfully prepared, but the drink of the evening was Siilowitz, Yugoslavia's national beverage, with never a sign of Russia's traditional vodka.

The obvious intent, therefore, was to present Yugoslavia as a national entity, true to its own concepts of communism, but so far removed from the rigorous totalitarian regimentation that characterizes the satellites of the Soviet Union.

With his tolerance of religion and his respect for the traditions and customs of minority groups, Tito at the present time is attempting to show the world that his nation is a virtual "island of democracy" ranged about by dictatorships.

His intention, therefore, is to deal with the western democracies and shun the Cominform, all with the definite proviso that no agreement to which he subscribes shall entail the slightest sacrifice of his own nationalistic principles.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

You have all heard that old story about the two fellows who met at a bar in New York.

"Didn't I see you in Dayton last month?" said one to the other.

"New" was in Dayton in my life," was the reply.

"Neither was I," said the first fellow.

"Must have been two other chaps," said the second one.

They both agreed and had another drink.

The papers have been full for days now about that Engel swindler in Chicago who bilked dozens of gullible, aging women out of goodly sums of money and pounds and pounds of jewelry.

It wasn't he at all, he insists, whenever another victim points him out as the man who cheated her.

"It's my twin brother, Arthur," he insists.

Again "the other fellow."

When a robber or a burglar is arrested and never admits his crime. Mistaken identity, he hollers; it's been "another fellow."

Before every holiday, drivers are admonished to be careful.

"It isn't so much what you do," say the warners, "it's what the other fellow does."

A couple of Sundays ago a radio commentator referred to the "Keystone cop in the White House."

Perhaps you don't remember the funny cops of the old Keystone comedies.

They made you laugh, but they would have been sorry specimens to have at the head of our country.

I mentioned this characterization of our President to several people after the broadcast.

Some didn't like the present occupant of the White House or perhaps I should say the Blair House.

But each one seemed to blame the "other fellow" for having put him there.

Who is that "other fellow" anyhow?

Have you ever met him?

I have. It's ME (or I, if you prefer).

It's YOU.

It's every one of us.

I am the "other fellow" to everybody but myself.

I am "the other fellow" to you.

You are the "other fellow" to me.

There's no higher mathematics about that at all.

It's just plain common sense.

As long as "the other fellow" gets the blame for everything, and as long as you and I are the "other fellows," it's up to all of us to behave and to act so that we "other fellows" can never be used for alibis.

If this is too complicated I'm not going to explain it any further in this heat.

Please ask the other fellow.

and military strategy. Yugoslavia is a definite asset to the western democracies. It stretches from the Adriatic almost to the Aegean Sea and its central position on the crossroad to the Orient always has been of huge value in time of conflict.

But perhaps even more important is Yugoslavia's stand in the ideological battle between East and West, in which Tito seems to be emerging as something of an arbiter, or at least as a moderating force.

His description of the Cominform as an interloping gang of trouble-makers is refreshing, in any case.

Spokesmen for his regime now say that Cominform spokesmen are distorting the words of Lenin and Stalin when they repeat the contention that war between communism and western bourgeoisie is inevitable.

If not actual distortion, they maintain that such pronouncements no longer apply in a world that has presumably learned its lesson of the fruitlessness of all wars.

They say further that new nations such as Yugoslavia must be allowed to proceed on the building of socialism without undue interference either from so-called "imperialistic capitalism" or from the extremism of the Cominform. There may be in their argument a possible kernel of a world understanding that now seems far away.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CELEBRATE FAMILY BIRTHDAYS

Celebrating birthdays of each and every member of the family is a good practice. It emphasizes the individuality and worthwhileness of each member as a person. It has value to the celebrators as well as to the person whose birthday is celebrated. It can further a family unity.

A cynical observer might poke fun at young parents who have a birthday party with a cake and candle for the baby one year old, or a similar party for the tot two or three. But the cynic fails to realize what this ceremony means to the parents and does to them inside. It might even do the grandparents good if they were present. The event will mean more to the child as he grows older.

Material Aspects

But there are perils in this practice. The parents can easily set their sights too high on material aspects of the event and find themselves naturally emphasizing things more and more, causing the child even before he is five or six, to expect excessive bestowal of gifts and the like and building up selfishness in him. Also all too early parents tend to invite many other little children as guests and plan for games and entertainment to which these guests won't respond well. Besides, the excitement for the tot may be too great.

Keep birthday parties simple. For the child two or three none but just one or two adult relatives or neighbors, and at most, not more than one or two playmates, should be present. Any special ceremony should be very brief, half an hour or less. For the child four or five the party should also be short and simple with not more than four or five playmate guests. A few brief, simple group activities like those in the nursery school or kindergarten should suffice. These children are too young for games and games, such as children's seven or eight man's play, or telling or reading a few stories to the entire group or to smaller groups or even to individual tots, by older children or adults; letting them have simple blocks and a few other toys to play with; or inducing some of them to draw and color for a few minutes should be quieting and pleasant to the little children. Anything which tends to excite the youngsters and cause confusion is not good. You want your little child whose birthday it is and his young guests to be happy as the party ends and not tired and irritable, as too often is the case.

Usual Practice

Even for children over six the birthday should be simpler, shorter and with fewer guests than is the usual practice. As late as reasonably possible in your young child's life, keep prizes and gifts (Continued on Page Seven)

Babe In The Woods

Really Frightens Me

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

There is only one thing in the world that really frightens me, and that's a bank. Any bank. I don't walk into a bank, be it the Arkansas Bank and Trust Company, or the Big Town Bank and Trust Company of New York City, and my knees behave in the manner of the most timid bridegroom.

Banks may not know it but through the years they have developed an ability to frighten customers. Bankers excepted, no one has ever loved a bank.

The first person you meet upon entering a bank is a watchman or a doorman, and he is possibly a policeman who was fired from the police force because he was too mean. He gives you the impression of being a trigger-happy fellow who wants to fill you full of lead slugs, each one placed where it will hurt the most.

What do you get in a bank after you pass the doorman? I will tell you.

Vice presidents.

Scattered All Over Place

They are scattered all over the place, each wearing a deep-freeze look. Their expressions seem to say to the customer, "No matter what you want, no matter what you need, we are here to see that you don't get it. I speak without fear of contradiction when I say that some of the most pompous individuals on earth, without having any reason to be pompous, are bank vice presidents.

As far as I have been able to discover, their chief talent is an ability to get bald at an early age. Perhaps the best picture ever drawn of bankers was that done by J. P. Marquand in his best seller, "Point of No Return." It lacked only one thing—it made bankers out as human beings, and most depositors will swear they are not.

Truman Could Win Medal

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 19.—There is, I think, a parable for Mr. Truman in the true-life story I am about to tell. It is a story about Capt. Joseph W., a Distinguished Flying Cross bombardier of the 392nd Bomb Group (H) in which I had the honor to serve.

One day the Group flew out of England to bomb a particularly tough target in eastern Germany. There was snow on the ground, and there were swarms of German fighters and flak-bursts in the air. Up in the cramped nose of the leading B-24, Joe kept studying the maps, searching the snow-covered landscape through his bombsight. He finally located what he thought was the target. At his direction the whole formation of bombers swung to a new course, bomb bay doors came open. Joe pressed the electrical toggle switch and down tumbled the bombs.

So Far, So Good

So far, so good. But when the planes got home that night, the headquarters officers made a careful study of the bomb pattern. Suddenly the truth came out—somebody had blundered. The Colonel sent for Joe and showed him the aerial photographs. It didn't take Joe long to see that he'd made an excusable but serious mistake. Many bombardiers under such circumstances would have offered weird excuses. The maps were wrong. The bombsight was out of whack. The pilots hadn't been on the proper course. But Joe looked up and met the Colonel's eye.

"Well, what happened," demanded the Colonel.

"Sir," said Joe who stammered a little, "I not only b-b-bombed the wrong target, but I m-missed that."

Joe more than made up for this error before the war was over. He lived to split many a target and to pin up his D. F. C. But I always thought the country owed Joe a special medal—one for the telling the whole embarrassing truth without a quibble or a dodge.

Could Earn Medal

President Truman could earn the same medal by coming absolutely clean on the results of his fiscal policy. It has been clear for some time that the President's tax-and-spend program has completely missed the mark of restoring American economy to stability. Mr. Truman took office just as the postwar era dawned. That was his chance to correct the imbalance which New Deal experiment and World War II necessity had forced upon us. There were those who believed, back in 1945, that Mr. Truman was just the man to take the courageous and unpopular steps toward retrenchment.

But there was an election on in 1946 and again in '48. The pressure groups which supposedly control great hunk of votes were at Mr. Truman for special favors. He must, they said, maintain the squirrel-cage economic output—or Labor would turn against him. He must keep on subsidizing agriculture for super-abundant yields—or he'd lose the farm vote. Also, to pacify what is patronizingly known as the Common Man, Mr. Truman was told that he must keep on grinding out Federal construction of housing, schools, power plants, hospitals, highways and Heaven knows what else. Where to get the money? Soak the corporations, of course. Soak American business for new taxes.

Was Partly Mistaken

Last week Mr. Truman took to the radio and admitted he was—well, partly mistaken. About raising new taxes, he was in error. He had, perhaps, been bombing the wrong target and was man enough to admit it—though only after Congress had flatly refused to consider new taxation.

But the other half of the true confession remains unspoken. Like Capt. Joe, Mr. Truman has not only been aiming at the wrong target—he has missed it. He has missed the responsibility of considering American economy as a whole problem—not as the problem of the pressure groups. The plan he now calls for to reverse the recession shows gross favoritism and political opportunism. It does not tell the worker, the farmer and the recipient of Federal gravy that this is the time for everybody to tighten the belt. It does not call a halt to the Tru Deal spending spree. All it does is charge this spending to the coming generations. To pick the right target and to split it down the middle, Mr. Truman would have to call off excess taxing and excess spending—both.

Folks Of Fame

A world-renowned actress, Sarah Bernhardt was born in Paris, Oct. 22, 1845. She entered the Paris Conservatoire at 13 where she gained a prize for tragedy, and one for comedy. She made her debut on the stage in 1862, but her first definite success was as Ophelia in Shakespeare's King Lear. After the Franco-Prussian war she steadily increased her reputation and began world tours—to England, America, Denmark, Russia—acclaimed everywhere she went. In her later years an accident led to the amputation of a leg. In 1922, she played a young man's part in Verneuil's Daniel. She died in Paris on March 26, 1934.

'SENIORITY' AT ITS SILLIEST

Seldom has the stupidity of slavish adherence to the seniority system in making Congressional committee assignments been so completely demonstrated as in its invocation to bar Senator John Foster Dulles from the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Here is one of the most outstanding figures in the nation who, as a distinguished Republican, has been one of the props of our bi-partisan foreign policy. He has wide experience, thorough knowledge and great capabilities. But because he is a "new Senator" he can only be assigned to one or two minor committees.

Senate leaders of both parties undoubtedly realized how silly this is and were trying to devise some way to put Mr. Dulles in the foreign affairs group. But Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon demanded the post. The same thing happened when it was proposed to give Senator Dulles a post on the appropriations committee—Senator Knowland of California insisted on having that one. Both senators, of course, are "senior" to the new member from New York in length of service in the senate.

In these critical times on the foreign relations committee. The seniority system has resulted in the past in putting unfit or mediocre men in powerful positions in Congress. In this instance it keeps one of the best equipped members of the Senate from a post in which he could render valuable services to the nation.

MEMORY OF MERTON RICE

The Reverend Merton Rice and I Off wore a different coat and tie. Alike, it seemed, we seldom guessed. For banquets how we should have dressed. When I wore tails that touched the floor His business suit the Reverend wore; When he was garbed in black and white My suit was wrong and his was right.

But whether right or whether wrong, The Reverend Merton thrilled the throng, While some in proper dress arrayed.

The drierest of speeches made. Tuxedo, tails, or suit of tan. Add nothing to the worth of man. Far more important oft we find Than coat and tie are heart and mind.

The rules of dress for night and day. Let all who can and will obey, But no tuxedo ever spoke. A word man's courage to invoke; And Merton Rice would heartening be.

Though dressed in overalls were he. So who'd have speech worthwhile to quote. Should ask the man and not his coat. (Copyright, 1949, Edgar A. Guest)

BIBLE THOUGHT

Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.—Matthew 13:43.

Codrus is the reputed last king of Athens (circa 1,060 B. C.). When the Dorians invaded the Attic territory, an oracle declared Athens would be saved if its rulers should perish by the enemy's hand. Codrus, disguised as a peasant, entered the Dorian camp, picked a quarrel, and was struck down. The Dorians withdrew.

Brakeman Lives After Fall Under Moving Train

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., July 19.—(INS)—R. E. Dover of Fort-felt, Mo., huddled on his hospital bed in Cape Girardeau today to show visitors how he lay between two rails while 44 railroad freight cars passed over him.

"I lay there nearly scared to death. It seemed like a week before the train finally stopped," the 30-year-old railroad brakeman said.

Diver told his story to newsmen from the hospital bed where he is being treated for a deep scalp wound, body bruises and lacerations.

A six-year railroad veteran, Dover said he started to hop the freight train near the front end as it started up from the Fort-felt rail yards yesterday. He continued:

"I've done it hundreds of times, but I knew instantly something was wrong. I felt myself thrown against the ties between the rails. I was dragged several yards, then I stopped.

"When I was aware of my predicament I didn't move a muscle until I realized how deeply the metal rods under the cars were cutting into my back. Then I moved a little toward one rail and they stopped hitting me."

His rescuers said that the rods had stripped Dover of both shoes and all his clothing, except one sock.

Dover continued:

"I lay there nearly scared to death. I was afraid one of the rods would grab hold of me and either drag me along or just throw me under the wheels. But I just had to lie there. There wasn't anything else I could do.

"I can thank my lucky stars. I guess it just wasn't my time to go."

The train crew finally stopped the train when signaled by someone who saw Dover in the cars. He asked for a cigarette and then lapsed into unconsciousness.

COMBINATION LIVING-DINING ROOM

"We have moved into a country home and I have found that the living room is too small for comfort. We are considering removing the partition, eliminating the dining room and making a large living room. We have a large dining table, buffet and six upholstered chairs. Our living room furniture consists of a sofa, piano, two chairs and two bookcases. How may we arrange these in one room?"

Answer: You must not have both living room and dining room furniture in one room, unless you don't care how your room looks. Either leave the rooms as they are or arrange your one large room as a living room only. This can be done very well by eliminating your dining room furniture, retaining the living room pieces you already have and adding a folding table to be set up during meals and at other times folded by the wall. For example, a gate-leg or reproduction of a Duncan Phyfe.

Instead of a buffet, have a secretary desk in the top of which store your dishes and in the drawers your linens. You may use as many of your dining chairs as your room will accommodate, provided of course they are appropriate for a living room. Or better still, get Windsor or Robert Morris chairs, both of which are appropriate for living room furniture, as well as comfortable for using at a dining table.

If you feel that this added expense would be too much effort for you, leave your rooms as they are. 'Tis better to have two small attractive rooms than one unattractive one.

Question: Please give me the correct usage of "esquire."

Answer: In British usage, it is written after a gentleman's name. In America, it follows, usually, names of lawyers and other professional men, although it may be used after any man's name. But when it is used, the "Mr." is omitted.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

"Oyez," an expression formerly used by court officers or criers in announcing court opening, was introduced into England by the Normans. In the United States, the English translation, "hear ye," is still employed by most court criers.

"Assignment; America"

By INEZ ROBB
(Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)
(Distributed By International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 19.—The average American woman, who is all things to all press agents, is a dumpy, sawed-off cupcake with a chest expansion like a fire plug, a waist like a beer barrel and stenographer's spread from A to Z.

This enchanting description of American womanhood has been given me gratis by an outfit which calls itself the Corset and Brassiere Association of America. Never mind what I call it.

According to the association, the corset tycoons and the brassiere kings of America have had nothing better to do for months than run around the country armed with tape measures, making life a hyperthyroid judge at a bathing beauty contest.

The result of so much diligence and enlightened self interest is proof that there ain't no such animal as the tall, slim, lissome, svelte and, willowy American beauty.

More Brass and Bounce

The Corset and Brassiere association, an outfit with a two-way stretch nerve, apparently has more brass and bounce than most of its products. For the boys, with tape measures in their hot little hands, have come up with proof that the average American woman is just a minor Gargantua.

Resembling a squash more than a string bean, the A. A. W. stands a scant five feet three inches in her nylons, measures thirty-five and a half inches around the cornice, 29 inches at the waist, 38 inches in the beam, and weighs 133 pounds.

Two other fascinating facts have also been churned up by these research traveling salesmen. First, the farmer's daughter, a lass who ought to acquaint herself with the nation's libel laws, is heavier than her city sister.

And, two, while the poor may not of necessity get poorer these days, neither do the rich get richer. They just get slimmer. It ain't enough a girl should be poor and honest, she should also reduce! Here is a ready-made issue, if I ever saw one, for the fair deal to get behind and push, preferably with Indian clubs.

Most Mystifying Aspect

Of course, the most mystifying aspect of this whole report is why some high-type average American woman didn't haul off and sock the brassiere and corset tycoons on the button when they began to make with the tape measure.

It is probably true that nothing is sacred any more, but it seems to me that in the future when a man knocks at the cottage door, tells the lady of the house he is working his way through college and unleashes a tape measure, she should at least be permitted to slap his sassy face.

It is with some alarm I am forced to realize that the whole fashion scene is pervaded by peeping Toms. Two hundred American manufacturers of lingerie have just organized to make the average American woman conscious of the alleged sloppy underwear over which she wears her alleged Paris models.

The lingerie boys claim they have had "a horrified peek or two at the unglamorous, unfashionable and untidy" underwear worn by the A. A. W.

All I have to say is that we have been wearing exactly what the lingerie boys have been manufacturing. And if they don't like the looks, then they'd better cut some new patterns.

The lingerie manufacturers' pious wish to "remove an estimated 50,000,000 safety pins off the shoulderstraps of the nation" will be heartily echoed by 50,000,000 average American women, who can't all be wrong.

In the first place, just sew those shoulder straps on real good and tight, boys. That's all we ask. Just sew 'em on good and tight. Don't tack 'em on as is your custom, or glue 'em either. That comes out in the wash. Sew 'em on good, and we won't need those safety pins.

And another point, gentlemen, get the hell away from that key-hole!

Voters Begin To Show Last Minute Interest In Getting Qualified

DONALDSON TO FACE BANDITS

With the current week being the last one in which voters may become qualified to vote at the fall election, there has been a great increase in the number being registered. There was a real rush on the part of prospective voters this morning, toward noon a waiting line being noted.

Total registration last week was 380, A. Lewis Conn, chief clerk of the permanent registration bureau, revealed. Of this number, 203 were Republicans and 177 Democrats.

To assist those who will be unable to visit the registration office, which is located in the court house annex, during the day, the office will be kept open until 9 o'clock in the evening on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and on Saturday the office will be open until 6 p. m.

With many new issues coming up, there seems to be a greater interest on the part of citizens who wish to express their opinion on these matters. This can only be done with the ballot.

TO FACE BANDITS

District Attorney Leroy Donaldson, County Detective Jack Thompson and Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna are in Cleveland, O., today, where they will face the two hold-up men who robbed the Household Finance company last March and secured $352 at the point of a gun.

The two men confessed to Cleveland police, who had arrested them on a similar charge, that they robbed the local institution. They have also been identified by employees of the company here as the men who held up the local institution. It is hoped to secure the signed confessions of the men when they are interviewed by the group in Cleveland today.

SUES OVER COLLISION

John Bober, by his mother, Mary Bober, and the latter in her own right, have brought an action in trespass against Cosmo Geniviva and Frank Geniviva, over a collision between a truck driven by Cosmo Geniviva and a motorcycle driven by John Bober, at Fourth and Crescent avenue in Ellwood City on September 13, 1948.

Bober, it is stated, in the bill of complaint, is now in the armed services, serving in Germany. On the day in question, it is alleged that Cosmo Geniviva failed to observe a stop sign on Fourth street and ran into Bober, who was riding a motorcycle. The sum of $25 is asked for wages as a motorcycle, and $72 for damages to the motorcycle, and $100 additional is asked for the loss of the use of the motorcycle, and for the pain and suffering the collision caused the plaintiff.

Lemke Assails Rules Committee

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—Rep. Lemke (R) N. D., accused the House Rules committee Monday of being "arrogant" and having assumed "the authority to speak for the entire congress."

The North Dakotan stated that "this attitude will not much longer be tolerated by the members of the House nor by the public."

Lemke complained that the House has been forced to remain in session in hot weather "when week after week there hasn't been anything of importance up on the floor."

The Republican congressman declared in a statement that the Rules committee, headed by Rep. Sabath (D) Ill., was responsible for this situation because it has blocked action on important bills.

Report 471 Persons Killed In State

Report Is Made Of Accidents In Service Utilities And On Public Carriers In 1948

HARRISBURG, July 19.—(INS)—Public Utility commission reports today show that 471 persons were killed on public carriers or in service utilities during 1948, an increase of 34 over the previous year.

Two hundred and twenty fatalities occurred in railroad accidents throughout Pennsylvania during the year but only one passenger died of injuries, the PUC reported.

Fifty six railroad workers were included in the death toll, the PUC said, along with 93 trespassers.

The overall list of fatalities was 44 under the 1947 report.

Railroad accidents resulted in injuries to 2,584 persons including 263 passengers, according to the report.

Railroad accidents last year resulted in injuries to 263 passengers and 1,935 employees. In 1947, 3,061 employees and passengers were injured.

Street railways reported 71 deaths and 4,574 injuries last year, according to the PUC. Ten passengers and three employees were among the fatalities. Non-riders accounted for the balance of the death list.

Buses reported five passenger deaths and injuries to 1,779 riders, the PUC reported. Nine employees were killed while 151 others were injured.

Fifty five non-riders were killed and 1,175 others were injured, the PUC report disclosed.

The balance of the deaths and injuries was spread through gas, electric, water and telephone utilities, the PUC said.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Over in England, two cockneys were riding up to London on the morning train when they spied a dignified old party on the bench opposite immersed in his morning Times. "Blimey," said one in awe, "it's the Archbishop of York."

"Ye're cuckoo," scoffed the other. After heated discussion, they bet a quid on it. "Only one way to find out," said the first. "I'll ask 'im!"

He poked the old party vigorously in the back and said, "Beg pardon, mate, but to settle a bet, are you not the Archbishop of York?"

The old man put down his paper angrily and said very distinctly, "What the blank blank do you mean bothering me this way? Buzz off, you blank blank, before I pull the bell cord."

The cockney resumed his seat with a puzzled air and admitted, "I still dunno whether it's the archbishop or not. 'E wouldn't tell me!"

Steel Head Says Profits Dropping

PITTSBURGH, July 19.—(INS)—Ernest Weir, chairman of the Board of National Steel corporation, predicted Monday that steel production may drop to 65 per cent of capacity before the end of the year.

If it does, he said, the industry "will have a lot of trouble breaking even."

Weir said that National Steel, the nation's fifth largest producer, earned 25 per cent less in the second quarter than it did in the first. He said earnings will be on a declining rate over the balance of the year, with the third quarter to show less profits than the second.

Polio Clinic At Centralia, Ill., Is Being Reopened

CENTRALIA, Ill., July 19.—(INS)—Work was being rushed today on the former Sister Kenny Polio Clinic at Centralia, and officials said they hoped to have the home open today in the face of a mounting epidemic in Southern Illinois.

The old mansion operated by Sister Kenny was closed last year when the Illinois Health department reportedly disagreed with the Australian nurse's method of treatment.

Dr. Norman Rose, district health officer, said the delay in reopening the clinic has been caused by a lack of beds. Sixty of them were sent from the home to Chicago a short time ago.

Thirty of the 76 polio cases reported in the state since July 1 were in the southern part of the state.

Officials said the only other hospital in the area, St. Mary's in Centralia, was filled to capacity.

Hawaiian Employers Oppose Bill Asking Fact-Finding Board

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—A spokesman for Hawaiian employers Monday opposed the Knowland bill calling for a fact-finding board to try to end the 80-day-old longshoremen's strike.

James P. Blaisdell, Honolulu lawyer, told the Senate Labor committee that fact-finding is a step toward arbitration, and that arbitration is a step toward nationalization.

Blaisdell charged that the Hawaiian strike actually is aimed at eventually nationalizing the pineapple industry. He quoted longshoremen's union leader, Harry Bridges, as having said:

"The International Longshoremen's Union believes in the nationalization of all basic industry, not only of railroads and shipping lines, but of the pineapple industry and all basic industry—everything but the corner grocery and the barber shop."

Bridges was waiting to testify before the committee as Blaisdell opposed the bill by Sen. Knowland (R) Calif.

UN Report Says Educate Africa

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., July 19.—(INS)—The education of darkest Africa is strongly recommended as the surest road to speedy progress for backward regions in a report issued Monday by the United Nations.

The recommendation is addressed to Britain, France and Belgium, administrative powers of large trust areas of Africa. A committee of the U. N. Trusteeship Council set up last March will place its conclusions before the 12-nation council in a few days.

In the report, the three administering governments are urged to intensify and strengthen their educational efforts to the fullest possible extent. The committee, however, finds a proposal for establishment by 1952 of a single university as impractical. The counter-suggestion is made of individual action by the three governments.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover reported today that 97.2 per cent of all persons brought to trial during the past fiscal year as a result of FBI investigations were convicted.

Almost 94 per cent of these persons pleaded guilty.

The convictions, Hoover said, totaled 8,415. They involved two death sentences, eight life sentences and a total of more than 20,000 years in prison sentences.

More than $200,000,000
for Telephone Expansion
Since the War
To Meet Telephone Needs in Pennsylvania

We've Made Great Progress

Since the end of the war—less than four years ago—we have increased the number of telephones by more than 805,000. Yet it took us more than 43 years to reach our first 805,000 telephones!

Since the end of the war, the number of local telephone calls during an average business day has increased from less than 6,600,000 to more than 10,600,000. The number of toll calls during an average business day has increased from about 560,000 to over 800,000.

More than one million people have applied for telephone service since the end of the war.

There was only one way to meet this demand, and that was head-on. Head-on was the way we met it . . . and head-on is the way we are meeting it today.

Although there are nearly 27,000 Pennsylvanians who must wait for telephone service until new buildings, central offices, wire, and cable can be supplied in their communities, we are now furnishing service to three out of four applicants within the month in which they apply.

More Than $200,000,000

More than $41,000,000 in 1946, the first year after the end of the war.

More than $60,000,000 in 1947.

More than $74,000,000 in 1948.

And in the first six months we have spent approximately $32,000,000 of the $71,000,000 we shall spend in 1949.

$585 PER MINUTE—every minute of every working day! This is the rate at which our telephone system in Pennsylvania is being expanded.

And in the next two years—1950 and 1951—we estimate we must spend some $145,000,000 more.

We've accomplished great things with all this money. We've built 27 new buildings, enlarged 26 others.

We've installed 59 new central offices and have added to the equipment in all other central offices.

We've put up 91,000 additional poles.

We've placed more than 1,400,000 miles of wire along highways, under city streets—enough to go around the earth more than 56 times.

There Is Still Much To Be Done

Unlike other businesses, we must expand when and where there is public demand for our service, regardless of other considerations. It is our obligation—and our wish—to do everything we reasonably can to meet the public's needs.

Any way you look at it, telephone service is vital to this great state. Any way you look at it, telephone service is more valuable than ever before.

Lions Planning For 'Dream City' Near Chicago, Ill.

Site Is Purchased At Cost Of Almost Half Million Dollars

NEW YORK, July 19.—(INS)—Lions International prepared to announce today the purchase, at a cost of almost a half million dollars, a 400-acre tract of land near the Chicago for the erection of a "dream city."

To be known as Lions International City, the model community would eventually have 10,000 residents, homes, a hotel, post-office, churches, schools and possibly a college.

Plans for the "dream city," still in their tentative stage, will be outlined to the group's 32nd annual convention at Madison Square Garden today by Lions International President Eugene Briggs.

The tract of land is located 30 miles south of Chicago near Madison, Ill., on U.S. highways 54 and 30. It is 1½ miles southeast of Park Forest village.

It was purchased after eight months of negotiations by Liondom, Inc., a real estate corporation set up for the purpose. At present most of the area is either wooded or farmland. But there are several homes on the tract.

The original suggestion for the model city came from Melvin Jones, founder and secretary general of Lions International. Jones makes his home in Flossmore, a Chicago suburb not far from the planned "dream city."

Three members of the New Castle Camp of Gideons will attend the fifteenth annual international convention of the Gideon organization which will take place from Wednesday July 20, through Monday, July 25, at Milwaukee, Wis., with convention sessions in the Schroder hotel there.

Attending from New Castle will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chappell, state Bible secretary, and Gideon Auxiliary president, Miss Evelyn Chappell, respectively, and Mrs. Walter Bender, president of the local Gideon auxiliary.

O. T. Goldsmith, international president of the organization will be in charge with Rev. Charles E. Fuller of Los Angeles and Rev. Paul Rees of Minneapolis on the program. A youth program will be a special feature of the convention. Mrs. E. D. Fobes, international president, will be in charge of the ladies' auxiliary meetings.

Girl Scout Day Campers Plan Overnight Hike

Older girls of the Day Camp plan an overnight hike on Wednesday, July 20, at the Weingartner cottage. They are to be accompanied by adult leaders.

Two new leaders have recently been added to the list of supervisors at the camp. Assisting with the younger brownies is Mrs. Ralph McCormick, and a new leader for the older intermediates is Mrs. C. C. McDermitt.

Much enthusiasm has been shown toward this year's Day Camp. The children eagerly try out all activities that are available to them. The mounting list of registrations for the last week of camp is further proof of the success of scouting in New Castle.

by guests out of the picture. Always hold in mind the purpose of the birthday celebration.

A birthday ceremony for each parent and grandparent is important. Wonderful when each child out of his savings or earnings chooses to purchase a small gift for the honored person. Each parent should encourage the child thus to contribute to the birthday celebration in honor of the other parent or the grandparent. Nor should birthday gifts to members of the family to one another cease when they are separate. Fine when children and grandchildren assemble even from considerable distance to honor the birthday of a parent or grandparent—so much more sensible than the usual assemblage for funerals.

Boy Is Killed By Truck Operated By Blind Man

Small Brother Of Blind Man Sat On Lap And Guided His Operation Of Truck

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 19.—(INS)—State police today investigated the strange case of the death of a four-year-old boy beneath a truck operated by a blind man with the aid of a brother.

Nelson E. Schultz, 26, a veteran of World War II, operated the foot controls on the five-ton truck while an 11-year-old brother, Merle, steered the vehicle, according to State Policeman David James.

Six members of the Schultz family were hurt. The blind veteran escaped harm.

The victim, Barry Schultz, another brother of the blind man, was pinned beneath the huge vehicle when it toppled over after skidding yesterday on a slippery road near the Schultz family home at Ortanna, R.D.

Sat On Driver's Lap
State police explained that Merle sat on his brother's lap and sought to coordinate the movements. The family was en route to pick cherries.

Adams County Coroner C. G. Crist said an inquest will be held Friday. State police did not file any charge pending completion of the investigation.

Damages to the truck, which Schultz owned, were estimated at $400.

The four-year-old boy, taken to the Warner hospital at Gettysburg by John Sharrar, of Cashtown, was pronounced dead on arrival. The child is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schultz, and 13 brothers and sisters. Funeral services will be held Wednesday.

Taken to the hospital for treatment were Mrs. Isabel Schultz, 44, the mother; Mrs. Mildred Schultz, 30, wife of Nelson; 12-year-old Joyce, Pearl, 14, Melvin, 8, and Merle.

The mother, Nelson's wife and Merle suffered internal injuries while the others sustained lacerations and contusions.

Special product finishes are developed by the scientists of the finishes and paint industry to meet the specific requirements of the object to be coated. A wooden salad bowl, for instance, calls for a finish that is water clear and that is not affected by vinegar, alcohol, oil, fat, grease, hot or cold water, soap suds, household alkalis, etc. It must also be tough, scratch-proof and mar-proof.

Says Chaperones Worse Than Kids

LAVALLETTE, N. J., July 19.—(INS)—Chaperones, said Mayor William Chandler of Lavallette today, should have better morals than their wards—or what's the use?

Mayor Chandler said that some 1,000 teen-age youths vacationing in his resort town are "completely without morals or restraint" and their 21-year-old chaperones are "even worse than the kids". Some 70 youths have already been ordered out of the town.

The mayor cited one case where a sorority rented one floor of a cottage and a fraternity another floor. The results, the mayor said, was "confusion".

Delegates To Recent Farm Youth Meetings Tell Of Programs

KNOW YOUR OWN GOVERNMENT THEME

Two Lawrence county young people who attended recent meetings for farm youths spoke on their experiences at the weekly luncheon meeting of New Castle Rotary club in The Castleton on Monday.

John Neely of Plaingrove township was one of four delegates from the state of Pennsylvania at the National 4-H club camp at Washington and told of the program which was carried out there.

The theme of this meeting was "Know Your Government," and the speakers included Secretary of Agriculture Brannan and leading congressmen, who spoke on national topics.

One of the features which he told about was the citizenship ceremony, which was participated in by 48 of the young people who would be eligible to vote during the coming year. Mr. Neely was one of these. The group was inducted into citizenship in their country in this ceremony, which prepared them for the duties of adult citizenship.

Miss Ann Miller, who represented the Senior Extension Club of Lawrence County, in addition to two boys and two girls from the 4-H clubs, received a week's training at State College to fit them as 4-H club leaders. New Castle Rotary club helped to defray part of the expenses of these delegates. Miss Miller spoke on the program which was presented there, which proved most interesting.

School Clinic On Management At Penn State

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., July 19. (INS) — Thirty Pennsylvania school administrators opened a three-week school management clinic at Penn State Monday in an attempt to solve three major educational headaches.

The listed school buildings, local finance and evaluating educational services as the problems voted by state school officials as their top stumbling blocks.

Speakers include Stanton Leggett, educational consultant for the schools of New York City, who will speak on "Planning School Buildings for Community Use," and E. A. Quackenbush, director of the Bureau of School Administration, State Department of Public Instruction, who will deal with local financing practices.

Penn State faculty members will discuss units of educational service during the last week of the session.

Weird Murders Will Be Probed

British Professor To Go To South Africa To Try To Solve Ritual Killings

LONDON, July 19. (INS) — A British professor prepared to leave for South Africa soon to try to solve the ritual killings of at least 44 African natives.

Gwyn Jones, 45-year-old anthropologist of Cambridge university has been asked by Sir Evelyn Baring, British high commissioner for Basutoland, Swaziland and Bechuanaland, to make the investigation. The weird murders have terrified the natives of Basutoland and local officers have admitted their failure.

Baring has asked Jones to track down the Basuto witch doctors who are believed responsible for the murders and to try to find out their motives.

The anthropologist plans to live among the Basutos and study their social habits. But he will have to tread carefully since the Basuto tribes are proud, haughty people of an aggressive nature.

The Basutoland ritual murders often are accompanied by cannibalism. Natives have the primitive belief that parts of the human body make potent charms when eaten or when preserved and worn.

LIGHTNING KILLS FOUR

SAN SALVADOR, July 19. — Thirteen turned out to be an unlucky number for a group of men who were rolling dice in a shack near San Miguel City during a heavy thunderstorm.

Lightning struck the shack, killing four of the 13 players and seriously injuring the others.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Park, left for a vacation in Canada and other points of interest.

Fire Truck Can't Get Past Onlookers

DETROIT, July 19. (INS) — There are a lot of people who love to watch a fire in Dave Steel's neighborhood—and, because of it he doesn't have a garage or a car today.

Crowds of fire-watchers and a blockade of cars kept out the fire truck. Policemen passed through the crowd handing out tickets. The garage and car were destroyed.

Proceedings To Oust Councilman Have Been Started

GREENSBURG, Pa., July 19. (INS) — State Attorney General T. McKen Chidsey on Monday began quo warranto proceedings in Westmoreland county common pleas court to remove an Arnold, Pa., councilman from office for misfeasance.

Charges against Councilman William Theodore Settlemyer were filed by Deputy State Attorney General Frank Steiner.

Steiner claims Settlemyer induced or knowingly permitted Arnold city employees to erect a garage and construct a driveway on land to which the councilman and his wife, Gladys Margaret, held title.

Settlemyer, a Democrat, is president of the Allegheny Valley Trade Council and president of the Flat Glass Workers union in Arnold. He served as director of streets and sewers during the fall of 1947. Prothonotary Leo Sukula issued subpoenas on Peter J. Malick, Arnold city engineer, and five street department employees.

Another subpoena will be served on Theodore Cappone which will order him to bring all payroll and time records and vouchers of the Arnold street department employees from September 1, 1947, to December 1, 1947, into court August 12.

Czechs Executed For Anti-State, Pro-British Acts

Following the social Oil City leaguers visited Westminster college, at which the first Lutheran L. S. V. school is being conducted this week.

Boy Friend Held In Widow Slaying

PHILADELPHIA, July 19. (INS) — John E. Kirshner, 55-year-old maintenance man, was held without bail for the coroner Monday in the paring knife slaying of his widowed girl friend.

Kirshner's 80-year-old mother wept quietly as she heard her son charged with homicide and highway robbery. He is accused of fatally stabbing Mrs. Elizabeth Calhoun, 50, near her home last Saturday.

When asked by the court if he had any statement to make, Kirshner told Magistrate John Morelock:

"No, I signed a confession—that's all there is to it."

Photograph Clue

A photograph of Kirshner found among Mrs. Calhoun's possessions led to his arrest, police said. Detectives reported that when they visited Kirshner's home to ask him about his relations with her, he blurted out a confession.

Mrs. Calhoun's jugular vein was severed, and she died of loss of blood. Kirshner allegedly told police that he "kicked" her neck with a knife when she slapped his face during a round of taproom drinking and petty quarreling.

NEW YORK, July 19. — Legs, which took cover during the long siege of long skirts, are again in show position.

And stocking makers are using their best gimmicks to promote them.

The ankle reinforcements on new sheer hose may be made of velvet or even suede.

Inset in a pattern around the ankle of hose will be mesh, studded with rhinestones, and net, embroidered with pearls.

In a specially frivolous stocking, gold mesh may circle the ankle or run up the back seam.

From Son-Up to Son-Down

Day and night, electricity plays a big part in baby's life. Dependable electric clocks keep him on schedule. Electric service prepares and refrigerates his food — heats water for his bath and endless laundry — helps wash and iron his clothes.

Electricity plays a big part in the family life as well. It's always ready to save steps for mother, and lend a willing hand with heavy chores. It provides comfort and convenience and even entertainment for the whole family.

But when it comes to cost, electricity's a very small item indeed. Your friends and neighbors in this company — under sound business management — are continually using their skill and experience to keep electricity the biggest bargain in your family budget.

Senator Says Atlantic Pact Gives Breathing Time Period To Russia

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—Sen. Caine (R) Wash., charged Monday that the North Atlantic Pact gives Russia a 10 to 20-year breathing period to build up an atomic bomb stockpile and consolidate her gains.

He termed the pact "distressing, feeble and stumbling, weak, murky and contradictory," but said he will vote for it on the theory that it is better than nothing.

Caine, in a Senate speech, criticized the statement for not including Sweden, Greece and Turkey in the treaty and for permitting a one-member veto of future membership applicants.

He said the time may come when Spain's inclusion is needed but, he stressed, Spain could be kept out because Communist-influenced European politicians did not like "the color of Franco's nose." Caine continued:

Feverishly Building
"What we are saying in effect to the Soviet Union is: We know that you are feverishly building atomic plants and that you will use them without hesitation in any future conflict."

"It is probable that within two or three years you will have enough of these instruments of death and horror to terrorize our European allies into neutrality and to threaten our great cities with destruction if we intervene."

"According to the articles of our Atlantic Pact you may continue doing this in peace without restraint for at least 10 and perhaps 20 years."

"We also know that you are feverishly consolidating your gigantic zone of influence in eastern Europe and that you are building scores of divisions in your satellite countries while devitalizing eastern Germany.

"Here, too, we have no real objections. But if you dare to invade Norway or attack Luxembourg we shall descend upon you with the entire might of the United States. There we draw the line!"

Caine said it would have been possible for the State department to have proposed instead of "a timid military alliance" a "thunderous world pact for mutual defense open to all nations including Russia."

Earlier, Senate Foreign Relations Chairman Connally (D) Tex., disputed claims of Sen. Pepper (D) Fla., that the Atlantic Pact deprives Congress of its right to debate a war issue if one of the signatories is attacked.

Senator Details Reasons He'll Vote Against Pact

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—Sen. Kem (R) Miss., charged Monday that the North Atlantic Pact would put American foreign policy "in a straightjacket" for a fifth of a century.

In a Senate speech detailing the reasons he will vote against the treaty, Kem questioned which side Great Britain and France would be on in any war between the United States and Russia.

He pointed out that England and France have non-aggression treaties with Russia.

Ask New Republic To Join Anti-Red Union In Pacific

MANILA, July 19.—(INS)—Philippine President Elpidio Quirino announced Monday that Vietnam, the republic now being carved out of former territory of French Indo-China, would be among the nations invited to join the proposed anti-communist Pacific union.

The president said the invitation will be extended following official announcement regarding the outcome of a referendum in Vietnam on the kind of government to be set up there.

Ex-Convict Charged With Police Murder

LONG BEACH, Calif., July 19.—(INS)—Ex-convict Jack Pickell, 26, who knew the inside of a prison at the age of 14, was under arrest Monday charged with the murder of a Long Beach policeman.

Pickell surrendered weekly yesterday, five hours after officer Merlin L. Evans, 37-year-old father of two small children, was shot to death. Police said Pickell admitted the slaying.

The shooting occurred when Evans and his partner R. G. Phillips, halted the ex-convict and questioned him concerning a $60 burglary an hour before.

Savoia Society Picnic Is Held

Inclement Weather Forces Crowd To Have Entertainment In Club Rooms

About 300 members of the Casa Savoia Society gathered at Oakhurst for their annual picnic, Sunday afternoon. Although the weather was hardly the ideal kind for a picnic, an enjoyable time was enjoyed by the crowd.

A delicious meal was served by the committee, and afterwards, there were games and other amusements. The group later assembled in the club rooms, and the festivities continued with dancing being the main pastime.

Mrs. Mabel Mastrangelo sang a solo, which was well received.

Later in the evening, a chicken supper was served to those attending.

A speakers program followed including: Alfonso Scarazzo, general chairman of the picnic; president Angelo Ginocchi; and vice-president, Joseph Pagley. Co-chairman for the picnic was John Fulvi. The organizer, John Casaccia, was honored by the members. Success of the picnic is due to the chairman, Alfonso Scarazzo and the following committee: Charles A. Santillo, John Donofrio, John Mastrangelo, Vito Colella, Charles Quint, Vincenzo Isabella, Salvatore Isabella, Antonio Crudele, Frank Pagley, Rocco Litrenta, Joseph Pagley and President Angelo Ginocchi.

Members of the House of Savoia Auxiliary prepared and served the meals and they were: president, Mrs. Ida Semione; Mrs. Clotilda Ross; Mrs. Mabel Mastrangelo; Mrs. Nancy Brescia; Mrs. Jennie Stredde; Mrs. Maria Isabella; Mrs. Mary Berardi; Mrs. Concetta Colella; Mrs. Rose Audia; Mrs. Lucy Lemer; Mrs. Eliza Cubellis; Mrs. Anzalone and Mrs. Sabelli.

President Angelo Ginocchi thanked the members and Auxiliary for their cooperation in making this event a success. The next meeting will be in August.

Frances Willard Union
Members of the Frances Willard WCTU enjoyed their yearly luncheon and garden party July 15 at the home of Mrs. Howard Magill, Garfield avenue. Using "Isaiah's Vision" as her topic, Mrs. Magill led devotions.

The following were elected: president, Mrs. Robert Chappell; first vice-president, Miss Laura Bell; second vice-president, Mrs. Harry Glover; secretary, Mrs. J. C. Pherson; assistant secretary, Mrs. O. E. Rhodes; treasurer, Mrs. Martha Dadds; and assistant treasurer, Mrs. C. N. Moore.

Mrs. A. W. Zeigler, vice-president, appointed Mrs. Glover and Miss Bell as auditors.

Mrs. R. McConaghy reported two new "Union Signal" subscriptions and one for "The Young Crusader." Mrs. Glover, county treasurer, gave reports of progress and the number of new members.

Miss Anna Dadds reported on alcohol education, having taught seven lessons at Oak street school. Miss Dadds also conducted a medal contest in the Bible school of the Reformed Presbyterian church with Arthur Oberlin winning in a group of five children. The same leader had poster contests in the Bible school.

A program on alcohol education was given by 100 children at the Lawrence County Sabbath School association's convention in Epworth Methodist church. Mrs. Glover completed a scrap book to be given to a hospital for veterans. Miss Anna Dadds will speak on "Alcohol Education" at Rhodes Mission in the near future. Miss Martha Dadds closed the meeting with prayer.

Rodger Young To Be Laid To Rest In Ohio Friday

GREEN SPRINGS, O., July 19.—(INS)—Rodger Young, who volunteered for death in the steam-jungles of New Georgia, will be laid to rest in the cool green soil of his native Ohio Friday afternoon with full military honors.

The Congressional Medal of Honor winner will be buried in a flag-draped casket at 2 p.m. (EDT) near his home town of Green Springs, O.

Young, whose name was immortalized by Frank Loesser in a ballad now accepted as the official infantry song, died in a blaze of Japanese machine gun fire as he crept forward with a handful of grenades.

Frank Loesser will be there Friday afternoon, and so will Lt. Col. Joel M. Wareing of Washington, D. C., the same man who held rites for the dead hero at the spot where he died six years ago.

Young's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Young, now of Baltimore, Md., will also be present when the casket bearing their son is carried to McPherson cemetery at nearby Clyde.

And then, while the words of the ballad of Rodger Young drift through the Ohio countryside, an honor guard including two Medal of Honor winners will salute him.

Payroll Padder Sentenced Monday

PHILADELPHIA, July 19.—(INS)—William A. Toner, 53, of West Philadelphia, was sentenced Monday to pay a $5,000 fine or spend a year and a day in jail on charges of payroll padding.

Toner was accused of padding longshoremen's payrolls by $2200 during wartime stevedoring work in Philadelphia. He was port manager for the Atlantic & Gulf Stevedoring Co. at the time.

Sentence was passed by Judge Charles C. Wyche, of Spartanburg, S. C.

The term "Patricia Potestas" originally signified the authority of a Roman father over his family. A son could not be freed from his power except by mancipation, although absolute alienation only took place after he had been mancipated three times.

Smiths Still Lead In Listings In Directory, Jones' In Second Place

Smith again proves to be a most popular name in the City of New Castle, according to the new city directory which has just been issued. The record reveals that 206 New Castle Smiths are listed which of course in most cases represents only one member of the Smith family with the total running into well over that number. If five or six of the Smiths in any one family are under 16, their name does not appear in the book.

The name Smith has declined slightly in popularity though as the last directory, issued in 1947, reveals that there were 218 Smiths recorded. Shifting of population to the rural areas probably accounts for the decline.

The name Jones is second on the list of most repeated names in the new directory with 152 listings enumerated for that name. The Jones' about the city, too, seemingly are on the decline because in 1947 your fact minded reporter found that there were 155 such names reported to the enumerators. By the way, better be careful when you're talking about Bill Jones as there are 10 of them residing in the city.

The Johnson's and Davis' share third place honors as to popularity with 115 of each name found on the pages of the new book. The Browns have 112 names to take fourth place with the White's leading for fifth place honors with their 73 listings.

Besides the Browns and Whites, the Blacks have 64 names listed, the Greens 24, the Blues 16 and the Lavenders three.

Giuseppe Abbonanza of 813 High street takes the honor of having the first residential listing while Stanley Zywar of 46 High street is the last name to be listed in the new directory. Strangely enough neither of these individuals live on the same street, as Mr. Abbonanza lives on the east side and Mr. Zywar resides on the west side.

Names are mighty interesting at times, so it's best to be specific when you are talking about your neighbor as you might be talking about another person of the same name on the opposite side of town.

Oppose Selection Of Site For Civic Opera Programs

PITTSBURGH, July 19.—(INS)—A persistent group of Highland Park area residents, who object to Pittsburgh city council's selection of a Civic Light Opera site, prepared legal action today to enjoin the city from proceeding with its plans.

Their action followed council's 6 to 2 approval yesterday of the plan to convert private property in the Highland Park area into a site for the light opera.

Thomas F. O'Leary, chairman of the objecting group, said "this thing should be fought out in the courts to see just how far the city can go."

Mayor David L. Lawrence is expected, nonetheless, to sign the ordinance which will condemn certain properties in the Highland Park district.

The total forest area of the United States is 461,397,000 acres.

Rev. Edwin Schmid Ends Ministry At Church In Wampum

Accepts Position With Assemblies Of God Eastern District As Sunday School Representative

Rev. Edwin S. Schmid, pastor of the Wampum First Pentecostal Assemblies of God church, has resigned as pastor of the church to accept a position with the eastern district of the assemblies of God, where he will serve as Sunday school representative and Christ's Ambassador's president.

Coming to the church ten years ago, Rev. Schmid, a former New Castle resident, has built the church up in a splendid manner with many improvements made in the church building and many new members added to the work. He will begin his duties on August 1, but prior to that he will attend Living waters camp meeting, near Kittanning, where he will serve as assistant camp manager.

Rev. Schmid presented his farewell sermon on Sunday evening during which time he spoke on "Paul's Prayer to the Ephesians". During the song service, the departing pastor was presented with three beautiful and useful gifts: a traveling case from the church, a military kit from the Sunday school and a brief case from the young people. Following the service the congregation and friends wished the Schmid family Godspeed in their new ventures.

For the past two years, Rev. Schmid has been secretary-treasurer of the northwestern section of the eastern district of the Assemblies of God, which position he has been carrying along with his pastoral duties. Candidates will shortly be called in order to select a new pastor for the Wampum congregation.

In Greek and Roman mythology, the Golden Age was the ideal period on earth, under Saturn's reign, when earth produced fruits without cultivation, when there was no war, and men lived in perfect happiness before sin entered the world.

STOCK MARKET IS IMPROVED

Large Block Of Commonwealth And Southern Shares Feature Transactions

NEW YORK, July 19.—(INS)—The transfer of a block of 350,000 shares of Commonwealth and Southern featured an irregularly improved stock market in early dealings today.

The transaction, one of the largest in stock exchange history, took place early in the second hour at 4½. This was a new high for the year and a gain of 1-8 on the day. A second block of 150,000 shares of Commonwealth was also traded soon after the first sale.

Elsewhere in the market selected industrial issues reached new high ground on the recovery from the June lows, but gains were small.

Among the industrial favorites to edge into the plus column were U. S. Steel, Chrysler, General Electric, General Motors, Bethlehem Steel and International Nickel.

Standard of New Jersey lagged in the oils with a loss of 1-4 to 66 1-2, while Anaconda dipped 1-8 to 28 1-2 in a mixed performance.

Rails turned in a mixed performance. Great Northern preferred and Northern Pacific were fractionally improved, while Pennsylvania and Louisville and Nashville eased slightly.

The bond market showed little change in quiet trading. Commodities were higher. Wheat gained 1-2 cent a bushel, corn was up 7-8 and cotton rose 50 cents a bale.

National Guard Again Called Out In Florida Trouble

GROVELAND, Fla., July 19.—(INS)—Mobs of white men angered by an admitted attack on a white woman by four Negroes were reported today to have burned at least three Negro houses near Bay Lake in a wave of rioting.

The Florida National Guard was recalled into Lake County for the second time within 24 hours after the recurrence of mob violence.

Lake County Sheriff Willis V. McCall said at least three frame houses were burned last night by the white men who roamed the countryside.

It was not immediately determined whether anyone was injured in the disturbances.

McCall said the fires were started by bombs made from bottles containing gasoline.

The sheriff said he called out the National Guard again after the mobs had been dispersed by local authorities into small groups which fled into the woods.

Stir Stafford Cripps Takes Treatments In Switzerland

LONDON, July 19.—(INS)—Britain's ailing Sir Stafford Cripps flew to Zurich today for a series of treatments to put him in condition for more wrestling with the country's economic problems.

During the absence of the chancellor of the exchequer, Prime Minister Clement Attlee will assume his duties as austerity chief.

Cripps has been told by his doctors that he must be treated now in order to be able to attend a major economic conference in Washington this September.

Last Fugitive Is Recaptured

Eddie Starcher Surrenders In Akron, O., Area On Monday To Detectives

AKRON, O., July 19.—(INS)—Akron detectives on Monday afternoon captured Eddie Starcher, last of 14 escapees from the Moundsville, W. Va., State Penitentiary.

Starcher surrendered to the detectives, led by C. John S. Struzenski, after they trapped him in a barn on the farm of Henry Eich near neighboring Medina.

Authorities were led to the farm by Kenneth Starcher, a brother of the escaped convict.

The brother had notified police of Eddie's whereabouts after the escapee phoned and asked to be delivered some clothes and cigarettes.

The captive and 13 other prisoners escaped from the West Virginia prison June 14 by sawing their way through cell bars. The others were captured without resistance shortly after following an intensive manhunt by police of three states.

SPAR VARNISH

An important use of varnish for many decades has been on spars and other exposed parts of ships. Hence the name "spar varnish". A weather resistant coating of this type is also used on many other surfaces exposed to the elements—station wagons and doors, for instance.

Steel Operations Advance This Week

NEW YORK, July 19.—(INS)—The American Iron and Steel Institute announced Monday that steel operations this week would advance slightly over a week ago.

It placed ingot production in the week beginning today at 78 3-10ths per cent of capacity, up one-half point from the 77 8-10ths per cent rate of last week.

The institute said that it had received no information that would indicate the industry was hampered by the plans for a closedown last week when a steel strike was threatened.

A month ago, the steel industry was operating at 84 4-10ths per cent of capacity, and a year ago, it was at 93 1-10th per cent.

Preparations For Seal Sale To Start

Lawrence County Tuberculosis society announces that all seal sale supplies have arrived at the local office and preparations for this year's seal sale will soon be started.

Volunteer workers will be called to help in preparing the seals and letters to be sent out to residents of the county later this year.

Money received from the sale of the seals will go toward helping to pay for the X-raying of high school seniors in the fall, giving patch tests to the odd grades of the schools throughout the county, X-raying in the office, furnishing milk for persons waiting to enter sanitariums and other services of the society.

Industrial Union Council Proposes Unemployment Plan

Address Letters To Senators, Congressman Offering Plan To Stem Unemployment

In letters addressed to Sen. Edward Martin, Sen. Francis J. Myers and Rep. Louis Graham the Lawrence County Industrial Union Council, affiliated with the Congress of Industrial Organization, called for legislative action in meeting the seriousness of the growing tide of unemployment and part-time employment in this area and throughout the state and nation.

Recently the executive board of the CIO emphasized the unemployment situation and recommended to President Truman's Council of Economic Advisors the following legislative program for consideration toward stemming the tide of unemployment:

1—To increase and extend the duration of unemployment compensation benefits and enlarge the coverage under a well coordinated federal system.

2—To increase the benefits of public assistance as well as extend such public assistance to the needy.

3—To give tax relief to the low income individuals by increasing personal exemption, and eliminating excise taxes at least to the extent of the increase enacted during the war.

4—To develop a shelf of adequate public works program and start immediate construction in areas which are not drastically affected by high levels of unemployment. These public works could be constructed directly through federal grants or loans to states and localities.

5—To increase the minimum wage from its present 40 cents to at least $1 per hour.

6—To grant loans to new and small business.

7—To transport workers to areas where employment is more readily available.

Recently in a nation-wide talk, President Truman appealed to Congress for legislative action to stem the tide of unemployment.

Letters to these men of distinction were signed by George Barbiero, president of the local council and his legislative committee.

State Department Official Denounces China Authorities

Says United States Information Offices Suspended To Keep Out Truth

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—Assistant Secretary of State George V. Allen Monday denounced Chinese Communist authorities for closing United States information services offices at Hankow and Shanghai as an example of the regime's "totalitarianism."

Allen, in charge of public affairs, said that the offices are being suspended and that a protest will be made to local authorities as well as to Communist officials in Peiping and Nanking.

"This is new and dramatic proof that the Communist dictatorship, like all other dictatorships, strikes out the freedom of information immediately on seizing power," Allen said. "Totalitarian regimes can only exist by holding their subjects in ignorance and by warping their mind with a strictly one-sided picture."

"Thus it is that the U. S. I. S. offices in Shanghai and Hankow, dedicated to telling the Chinese people the facts about the United States, our aims and aspirations for world peace is being suspended by the Communist captors who realize that public enlightenment is their greatest enemy."

Big Battleship Gets Overhaul

NEW YORK, July 19.—(INS)—The giant battleship, U. S. S. Washington, rugged veteran of Pacific warfare, entered the New York naval shipyard in Brooklyn Monday for a routine overhaul. The 35,000-ton battleship, commissioned May 15, 1941, has been part of the "moth ball" fleet at Bayonne, N. J., since June 27, 1947, and will return there around November 15, when the overhauling job is completed.

Rep. Blatnik Backs More Public Works

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—Rep. Blatnik (D-Fla.) Monday proposed a ten billion dollar public works program as a "Marshall Plan for the United States" to forestall a depression.

Blatnik, a member of the House Public Works committee, introduced legislation today authorizing appropriation of the funds to states and local communities to establish projects.

In addition, the bill allocates 50 million dollars for advanced planning of projects to be loaned without interest to states and communities.

No Trace Found Of Plane With 32 Persons Aboard

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—The Civil Aeronautics board said that a DC-3 commercial airliner missing since December 28 with 32 persons aboard violated federal safety standards and was overloaded at take-off.

The plane, operated by Airborne Transport Inc., disappeared while en route from San Juan, Puerto Rico, to Miami, Fla. No trace of the plane has ever been found.

The CAB estimated that the aircraft was 118 pounds overweight. It also charged that:

1. The aircraft's batteries were found to be discharging before take-off, but were never recharged.

2. The plane's electrical system, including its radio transmitter, were malfunctioning at the time it left San Juan.

Adjourn Congress Labor Day, Rayburn

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—House Speaker Rayburn (D) Tex., Monday again pointed to Labor Day as the probable adjournment date of Congress.

Rayburn said after conference between President Truman and the congressional Democratic leaders that there is a "lot of legislation to be acted on yet."

He flatly denied reports that Sen. Taft (R) Ohio and House Minority Leader Martin, of Mass., had approached him with an idea of adjournment by the middle of August.

Police Disprove Reports Of Riches

HARRISBURG, July 19.—(INS)—State police Monday scotched reports of the "wads" of money to be found in the mountain shanty home of John Harry Adams, a 47-year-old recluse who claimed direct descent from the nation's second president.

Cpl. Joseph Salzinger and Pvt. J. L. Brannigan searched the debris-filled shanty north of Harrisburg and found a dime, a penny and numerous empty medicine bottles.

Earlier, three Indian head pennies were reported found.

Highway Safety Theme Of Talks By State Police

Captain Hanna And Sergeant Bly Speak At Meeting Of County Truckers

Highway safety was the main theme of the talks given by Captain William R. Hanna and Sgt. Bly of the Pennsylvania state police, at the meeting of the Lawrence County chapter of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association last night, at The Castleton hotel.

Captain Hanna, commander of troop D, gave an overall picture of the duties and problems of the state police, and spoke on highway safety and the "Green Pennant", a program for the safety of school children.

Both he and Sgt. Bly recommended this program for all the schools in the county. It has already been established in the New Castle schools by various groups in the city.

Motorists Must Stop

Captain Hanna also announced that beginning in September all motorists must stop for school buses when they are loading or unloading.

Sgt. Bly gave a very interesting and informative talk on personal safety on the highway. He stressed the importance of common ordinary horse sense.

Too many persons take needless chances both in driving and walking, he stated. He showed this to the audience by a series of figures showing odds on chances taken when crossing a street in the face of traffic.

"Horizons Unseen", a film on the evaluation of the trucking industry, was shown. This film showed how everything we have or do is some way connected with the trucking industry.

Another film, "Traffic With the Devil", was also shown at the meeting. This film showed the experiences of the police in Los Angeles.

A discussion on "Norpac", an organization for the development of recreation, industry and transportation in the northwestern part of the state, followed the talks by the state police, and films. L. B. Round, of New Castle, is president of the organization. The Lawrence County chapter of truckers voted to support it.

Discuss Local Problems

J. C. Wachtman, executive vice president and secretary of the Greater New Castle Association, spoke on the development of the region and of Lawrence County in particular.

Charles Bashew, manager of Sears and Roebuck store in New Castle, also talked on the development in Lawrence County.

There was a good attendance at the meeting, both of truckers and business men. J. Fred Clarke, president of the Lawrence County chapter, Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association, was in charge of the meeting.

Captain Hanna's and Sgt. Bly's discussions were so interesting and valuable that the truck association has made plans for them to return and talk to the truck drivers of the larger truck companies in the county.

Next meeting of the association will be August 15.

FARM PRICES DROP FASTER THAN COSTS

Farm costs have dropped, but not nearly so far or so fast as the prices farmers receive for the things they sell. Since January 1948, farm prices dropped 17 per cent, farm costs only 2 per cent. During this period the purchasing power of the farmer's dollar has shrunk by 10 per cent, according to extension agricultural economists.

Trends in production and employment indicate a further possible weakening in the demand for farm products, but sharp reductions are not expected.

Prices of hogs and better grades of cattle may weaken slightly before beginning a seasonal advance during the summer. Utilization of milk as fluid milk and cream may average a little smaller this year than last. Egg prices are expected to trend upward until fall.

Feed prices during the next few months will be influenced considerably, they report, by prospects for 1949 feed crops. However, government loans on the 1949 crops and the large volume of grain under loan for the 1948 crops will tend to stabilize prices.

Cash wheat prices are expected to reach a low point in July or August and then advance. Prices of deciduous fruits are expected to be close to the levels of last summer, if the new crop turns out to be as large as now seems likely.

Prices for the reduced supply of citrus fruits this summer probably will be above those of the summer of 1948. Prices received for fresh market supplies of truck crops in July will be moderately lower than those of a year ago. Prices received for 1949 crop potatoes in July are expected to decline seasonally.

Body Of Soldier To Arrive Here

Funeral Arrangements To Be Made For Pfc. Albert J. Palumbo

The body of Pfc. Albert J. Palumbo, aged 21 years, will arrive in New Castle, Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock, and will be taken to the DeCarbo funeral home, East Lutton at Cunningham. Funeral arrangements will be announced.

Pfc. Palumbo was killed in action, October 4, 1944, in France. He was born June 21, 1923, in New Castle, son of Alexander and Anna Palumbo. Prior to his entering the service he was a tester at the National Radiator company for two years.

Surviving are two children: Marlene and Frank, three brothers, Arlen, this city; seaman apprentice, Arnold Palumbo, U. S. Navy, Portsmouth, Va., and Conrad Palumbo, of this city; and two sisters, Mrs. Mafaida Bucci and Mrs. Lucy Cubbal.

Pfc. Palumbo entered the service on August 21, 1943. He served with the 69th Rainbow Division of the Infantry.

Pittsburgh Thugs Kidnap Three, Take Wild Morning Ride

PITTSBURGH, July 19.—(INS)—Pittsburgh police were on the trail today of three middle-aged thugs who kidnaped a woman and two youths and took them on wild, early morning ride through the suburbs.

One of the thugs attempted to attack the woman, Mrs. Ruth A. McGaffin, 34-year-old wife of the president of the McGaffin Construction Company, after the trio failed in its attempt to rob a service station.

Police said Mrs. McGaffin, Andrew Malloy, 19, an attendant, and Martin Roell, 19, escaped after a fierce fight between Malloy and one of the kidnapers.

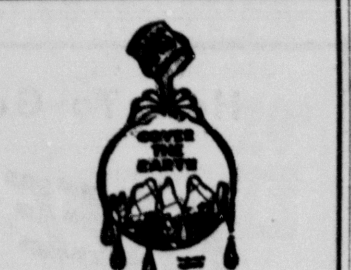

The highest waterfall in the world is at Kukuksam, British Guiana. It has a sheer drop of about 2,000 feet.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, July 19.—Cecil B. DeMille is one of the living legends of Hollywood.

A few weeks ago during the filming of "Samson and Delilah" DeMille began pouring it on assistant director Eddie Salven. The assistant, himself a considerable individualist, burned like a bride's toast.

"I'm no blankety-blank mind reader! Tell me what you want me to do and I'll do it!"

DeMille answered meekly: "All I want is an assistant director who won't bowl me out."

Much DeMille anecdote has suffered unintentionally from adverse interpretation.

Relieves Tension

Visitors to his sets sometimes scurry away to tell chums about the way DeMille treats the guys and gals who toil with him.

Often DeMille, and other movie moguls, light into assistants simply to relieve tension for an actor who has been bottlenecking progress of production.

DeMille seldom tortures his actors with a public bawling out. He knows that such action might throw them off kilter for the rest of the day.

Unlike the director who ragged an actor until the profile tossed him through a backdrop, DeMille is master of an oblique hob-raising. Only those close to him can understand to whom he really is talking.

Really Explodes

"You can always tell whether C. B. is really sore or not," one of his assistants reported, "simply by glancing at the back of his neck. If a flush of red starts to travel up from his collar, run for the storm cellar."

During a location trip on "Samson and Delilah" DeMille asked a property man to have six white sheets on the set, without fail, at 8 o'clock the next morning.

When dawn, arrived the sheets did not. Neither did the prop man.

DeMille was a tornado of considerable proportions when the guy showed up shortly before 9, driving before him six white sheets. "Heaven help me!" DeMille moaned, and retreated to his dressing room, too filled with emotion to tell the feller he had said sheets—not sheep.

Soap Box Winner's Car Investigated

PHILADELPHIA, July 19.—(INS)—A distinguished board of inquiry delved today into charges that there was "something rotten in Denmark" when George Wichterman, 12, won the city's soap box derby last Saturday.

Municipal Court Judge Nochem S. Winnet and two associates—Frank Ballantyne, head of the Philadelphia Automobile club, and William Berry, secretary of the Keystone Automobile club—began investigating these charges against the boy.

(1) That he had not, as required by the rules, constructed his own soap box "car."

(2) That the "car" contained several pounds of skillfully hidden lead and iron to give it more weight and thus more speed.

The board of inquiry was named after numerous protests were made, some anonymously via telephone, that everything was not according to Hoyle insofar as Wichterman's "car" was concerned.

SHORT CIRCUIT

Sixth ward firemen were called to the home of Harry Agnew, of 27 Front street at 9:55 p. m. Monday, where it was found pennies had been placed in back of burned out fuses, causing the electric wiring in the downstairs of the home to overheat and burn off the insulation, Fire Chief H. F. Steinbrink reports.

Erie Defeats New Castle 3 To 0; Will End Series Here Tonight

Karakul Slated For Mound Duty Tonight, Ciske Winner Monday

New Castle and Erie will conclude their two-game series at Flaherty Memorial Field tonight. The game starting at 8 o'clock. Manager Billy Mongiello has slated Joe Karakul, to take the mound for the Nats.

The Nats lost a tough one last night to the Sailors 3 to 0, as Bill Ciske outpitched Herb Churchill and Bob Cook. It was a tough one for Churchill to lose after fashioning a no-hitter over the first six innings. In the seventh Erie got two singles, and with two men out Karakul dropped a long fly in right and two runs tallied.

Bill Ciske the winning hurler, gave up only four hits, and kept the Nats from seeing home-plate. Erie had only four hits also, three off of Churchill, and one off of Cook, who pitched the ninth when Ty Corbett batted for Churchill in the eighth.

New Castle goes to Uniontown for a two-game series starting Wednesday. Friday and Saturday Vandergrift will be here for a series.

Herbie Tufts handled five chances each, without a miscue.

Tonight—Erie at New Castle, 8 p. m.

Wednesday—New Castle at Uniontown.

Thursday—New Castle at Uniontown.

Friday—Vandergrift at New Castle.

Saturday—Vandergrift at New Castle.

It was a fast well played game, each side being guilty of one error, but the Erie bobbie by Heinbigner in the fifth didn't give the Nats a break. The game required only one hour and 49 minutes to play. Erie had men on base almost every inning, but couldn't get them around. The Nats left six men stranded as Mister Ciske applied the brakes, when he got into any kind of trouble at all.

For the first six innings Churchill faced only 19 men. Erie didn't have a man left on base for the first six frames.

Herman Kiel and Gene Bilo had the only hits allowed by Ciske, each Nat player having two singles. Musselman, Berns, Coles and Karson had the four Erie hits.

Robinson Shines As Dodgers Win, Bucs Top Phils

Dodgers Lead By Two And Half, Cards Lose, Indians Scalp Red Sox 1-0

By LES CONKLIN

(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, July 19.—Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson is a man not only of words, but of action.

The star second baseman of the Dodgers told a bunch of congressmen in Washington yesterday that he is going to ask Prexy Branch (Buck) Rickey for a raise next year. Then he promptly popped back to Ebbets field and backed up his statement by beating the Chicago Cubs practically single-handed, 3 to 0, in a night game.

Robby Steals Home

The Negro flash stole home with one run and drove in another with a triple. This furnished a soft touch for Oakland Joe Hatten, the side-wheeling southpaw of the Brooks.

Brooklyn now enjoys a lead of 2½ games over the second-place St. Louis Cardinals in the National league race. Montia Kennedy of the New York Giants defeated the Cards 7 to 4.

Pirates Win

Pittsburgh exploded with a seven-run rally in the eighth inning and downed the Phillies, 7 to 2, behind Murry Dickson.

Cincinnati knocked Boston's Vern Bickford out of the box in the third inning and swamped the Braves 6 to 1. Ewell Blackwell and Eddie Ebraut held the Bostonians to three hits.

In the American league, a two-run single by George Metkovich in the 10th inning gave the Chicago White Sox a 6 to 5 win over the New York Yankees after Joe DiMaggio had kept the Yanks in the ball game with a homer, a triple and a single. The Yankees released pitcher Frank Shea to Newark in the international league.

Indians Down Sox

The second-place Cleveland Indians advanced to within 4½ games of the New Yorkers when Mike Garcia outpointed Boston's Maurice McDermott, another rookie, 1 to 0 on a double by Jim Egan. The Red Sox dropped to fourth place.

Rookie Johnny Groth hit three-run homers for Detroit in two successive innings, but the Philadelphia Athletics scored five runs in the 10th and downed the Tigers 13 to 8.

Washington and the St. Louis Browns were not scheduled.

Start Qualifying For City-County Golf Championship

Qualifying Rounds For Annual Event At Sylvan Heights Are Started

Golfers from Lawrence county have started qualifying for the annual city-county championship, which will be played at Sylvan Heights, Manager Sam Haycock stated today.

Golfers who wish to enter this event have until August 1 to qualify, he stated. There will be four flights and trophies will be awarded the winners of each flight, with a prize for the medalist also.

Anthony J. "Tiny" Lombardo is the defending champion, having won the event last year, with John Ferry the runner-up.

Nick Gennock, the runner-up, and George Bevan was winner of the third flight over Harry Karski.

Moose Club Downs All-Stars 3 To 0

Russ Headland Allows Only Two Hits In Thrilling Game Before Large Crowd

New Castle Moose softball team combined superb pitching and good fielding to defeat the All-Stars, 3 to 0, at Gaston Park last night.

One of the largest crowds ever to see a softball game in New Castle was on hand for the much-publicized contest and were not the least bit disappointed at the fine quality of play.

Russ Headland was on the mound for the winners, and his careful, accurate hurling meant victory.

Allows Two Hits

Headland faced only 36 batters during his nine-inning performance. Sam Ciaza of the All-Stars solved Headland's delivery for two safeties and that was the extent of the All-Stars' batting prowess.

The league-leading Moose nine backed up Headland with fine fielding support. De Gennaro made a Gionfrido-like catch of Miller's high and deep fly ball in the last inning with two All-Stars on the bases. The ball looked like it was homer-bound, but DeGennaro made a sensational backhanded catch on the dead run to erase the threat. Jimmy Valentino is the manager of the Moose.

Vince Foster, Girl Companion Killed In Crash

Promising Young Welterweight Meets Death In Minnesota, Two Others Injured

VINCE FOSTER

PIPESTONE, Minn., July 19.—(INS)—Welterweight Vince Foster's brilliant ring career was tragically ended today a short time before he was to begin training for a "march to the title."

The 22-year-old part Indian, a mercileless slugger in the ring and a Bible student outside, was fatally injured yesterday when his flashy auto crashed into the rear end of a tractor-trailer near Pipestone.

One other occupant in the Foster auto, 19-year-old Ruth Newcome of Helena, Mont., also died as a result of the crash. Two others, including the ill-fated young battler, were critically injured.

Returning From Dance
It was believed Foster and his four companions were returning to Sioux Falls, S. D., from a dance at Hatfield, Minn., when the accident occurred.

During his meteoric rise Foster was affectionately tagged a "new Billy Petrolle" by fight fans. The rise was unceremoniously halted recently by Charles Fusari who kayoed Vince in the first round of their New York battle.

His manager, Jack Hurley, fondly called the blazing slugger "my bum."

Rocketed To Fame
Hurley, reached in Chicago, said Foster had been due there tomorrow to begin training for what we planned would be a march to the title.

The promising two-fisted battler rocketed to boxing fame when he kayoed tough Tony Pellone in seven rounds during a New York fight.

A few months later Foster, strutting and cocky, lost his last big fight in one round to Fusari.

EAGLES COMMENCE FOOTBALL DRILLS

GRAND RAPIDS, Minn., July 19.—(INS)—Footballers filled the summer air today as the Philadelphia professional Eagles started practice for the Aug. 12 tilt with the college all-stars.

Formal drills for the National league champions actually begin Friday, but some of the eager birds beat the gun. The Eagles also are pointing for a game with the Chicago Bears on Sept. 17.

PHILA. STARS TO BATTLE CLOWNS TUESDAY NIGHT

Indianapolis Clowns having defeated the City league All-Stars twice, once last year and also last month, play the Philadelphia Stars, another colored team of satellites at Flaherty field 8:15 p. m. next Tuesday night.

The game should be a classic as both teams contain innumerable stars.

Speed Merchant, fastest man on the Clowns can do the 100 yards in 9.7, and has run against Jess Owens, Olympic champ and catlike Buster Haywood, is one of the top defensive receivers in the Negro American league.

Goose Tatu, first baseman, who stands 6.3, can pick off throws like a swatter draws in flies.

It will also be the second trip of Oscar Charleston's Philadelphia Stars here, and what makes it good, is the fact that the game is to be an official Negro league game. Charleston has Henry Miller, Bill Hicks, Barney Brown, Miller Harris, Bill Thompson, Jonas Gaines and Bob Griffith to pitch against the Clowns. Griffith is 6.6 and weighs 225 pounds. He has been hurling good ball this year.

BOBBY LEE WINS PHILADELPHIA BOUT

PHILADELPHIA, July 19.—(INS)—Bobby Lee, the Baltimore "spoiler", outroughed Chico Varona, Havana welterweight, to win an eight-round decision at Toppi stadium last night.

The victory brought Lee an offer to face Sugar Costner, Camden (N. J.) puncher, in Toppi bowl two weeks hence.

Although the stubby Lee triumphed on a split verdict, the fans appeared satisfied that he had at least outlasted Chico. Both fighters weighed 148½ pounds.

Sammy Snead Wins Tourney

PITTSBURGH, July 19.—(INS)—A $2,600 check for winning the $16,500 Dapper Dan invitational golf tourney put Sammy Snead, the slamin' mountaineer from West Virginia, in the top spot among the touring pros today. The national PGA champion shot a one over par 71 at Alcoma golf club yesterday to card a 274 aggregate and a one-stroke victory over runner-up Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago. Mangrum posted a 67.

Snead's 14 under par effort for 72 holes boosted his seasonal earnings to $20,960.83.

Dr. Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, and Herman Barron, White Plains, N. Y., shot 69s on the final round for totals of 279 and a tie for third and fourth places. Each received $1,275. Middlecoff now has a second place money total of $20,024.57.

Putts Prove Fatal

Mangrum had a chance to tie the slammer on the final hole but he missed a 12-foot putt after stroking twice from 50 feet out. It was a great effort by the Chicago pro who went into the final round five strokes behind Snead.

Bill Nary, blond Los Angeles pro who finished eighth with 281, scored a hole-in-one on the 190-yard, No. 15 hole. He used a No. 4 iron to register the third ace of his 22-year career.

Knox Young Jr., Pittsburgh, took low amateur prize with 291 effort.

Six young New Castle baseball fans took in the recent All-Star game in Brooklyn and have returned to their homes here, they saw a fine game and had a big thrill seeing the stars in action. The young men are Sammy Bertucci, Dick Janacone, Pat DeMarco, Rizzo Martin, and Bob McIlrot.

Report Forward Step In Battle Against Cancer

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—(INS)—Another forward step in the ultimate conquest of cancer was at the disposal of medicine today in the discovery of a vital cancer test by a university medical research team.

The test, simple, inexpensive and easy to make, enables physicians to gauge the effectiveness of any kind of cancer treatment.

Through it they can tell whether such therapies as hormones or X-rays are benefitting the patient, when the treatment should be discontinued and when it should be resumed again.

The test is based on the amount of two growth-regulating enzyme inhibitors there is in the blood. If there is an abundance of one of the inhibitors, the cancer is continuing to grow.

If the other inhibitor dominates, the cancer cell is being or has been brought under control.

Test Discovered
The test was discovered by Dr. Philip M. West, associate clinical professor of biophysics, and his research assistant, Mrs. Jessamine Hilliard. The two are connected with the medical school of the University of California at Los Angeles. Their discovery has been authenticated through successful use on more than 2,600 patients at the Birmingham Veterans Administration hospital in nearby Van Nuys. It takes only a few drops of blood to make the test. It has been so accurate in showing the progress of cancer patients that its use is now standard procedure at the hospital.

Boon to Research
Dr. Stafford Warren, dean of the UCLA Medical school, acclaimed the discovery, he said it went beyond just the treatment of cancer. He predicted that it would prove a boon to research in cancer and other diseases as well.

He pointed out that since the new technique immediately shows the effectiveness of any type of therapy, research projects devoted to the development of new treatments can be carried to a conclusion in a matter of months, instead of years they formerly required.

As for other diseases, the test also shows the response of tuberculosis and streptomycin.

Dr. Warren added that it has been found that the body reacts to virus diseases and cancer the same way, thus giving indirect support to the much discussed but not-yet-accepted theory that cancer is caused by virus.

New Castle Hospital Groups To Assemble

Members of the auxiliary and board of the New Castle hospital will have a special meeting Wednesday afternoon, July 20, at 1:30 o'clock in the nurses' home.
